

FIGURES

5.1a	Rotating wheels as described in the Peripatetic Mechanica : single.	page 128
5.1b	Rotating wheels as described in the Peripatetic Mechanica : multiple.	128
5.2	Artistic reconstruction of a self-rotating wheel for purification used in temples after Philo of Byzantium, Pneumatica 63. (Image Y. Nakas. First published in ‘The Importance of the Construct: Technological Animation in Ancient Religious Contexts’ in Technological Animation in Classical Antiquity . Edited by Tatiana Bur, Maria Gerolemou, and Isabel A. Ruffell, Oxford University Press, 2024. https://doi.org/10.1093/oso/ 9780192857552.003.0016).	130
5.3	Artist reconstruction of wheels placed in temple porticoes after Hero of Alexandria, Pneumatica I. XXXII Schmidt = 31 Woodcroft. (Image Y. Nakas. First published in ‘The Importance of the Construct: Technological Animation in Ancient Religious Contexts’ in Technological Animation in Classical Antiquity . Edited by Tatiana Bur, Maria Gerolemou, and Isabel A. Ruffell, Oxford University Press, 2024. https://doi.org/10.1093/oso/ 9780192857552.003.0016).	134
5.4	Artist reconstruction of a wheel for use in temples which sets off the singing of a little bird after Hero of Alexandria, Pneumatica II.XXXII Schmidt = 68 Woodcroft. (Image Y. Nakas. First published in ‘The Importance of the Construct: Technological Animation in Ancient Religious Contexts’ in Technological Animation in Classical Antiquity .	136

List of Figures

Edited by Tatiana Bur, Maria Gerolemou, and Isabel A. Ruffell, Oxford University Press, 2024. <https://doi.org/10.1093/oso/9780192857552.003.0016>.

- | | | |
|------|--|-----|
| 5.5 | Owl and bird display described in Hero of Alexandria, Pneumatica I.XVI Schmidt = 15 Woodcroft (Image Y. Nakas, copyright T. Bur). | 154 |
| 5.6 | C8/7 BCE Boeotian bell-type articulated figurine. Louvre CA 263 (funkyfood London – Paul Williams/Alamy Stock Photo). | 170 |
| 5.7 | Mid-late C10 BCE Attic bell-type articulated figurine. Athens Kerameikos Museum, inv. no. 962. Hellenic Ministry of Culture. | 172 |
| 5.8 | C8/7 BCE Cypriot terracotta figurine, once articulated, holding an animal. From a tomb. H. 16 cm. Metropolitan Museum of Art 74.51.1613. The Cesnola Collection. Purchased by subscription, 1874–6. | 173 |
| 5.9 | C8/7 BCE Cypriot terracotta figurine, once articulated, of a male flute player. From a tomb. H. 14.9 cm. Metropolitan Museum of Art 74.51.1691. The Cesnola Collection, Purchased by subscription, 1874–6. | 174 |
| 5.10 | C5 BCE Corinthian terracotta jointed figurine. Metropolitan Museum of Art 44.11.8. Rogers Fund, 1944. | 175 |
| 5.11 | Examples of socketed-leg and flanged-leg articulated figurines from Acrocorinth. Adapted from Merker 2000, plate 12. | 176 |
| 5.12 | Late C4/early C3 BCE articulated ivory figurine said to be from Taranto. Metropolitan Museum of Art 11.212.43. Rogers Fund, 1911. | 177 |
| 5.13 | Sketch of Bosphoran terracotta figurine with articulated legs and phalloi. Moscow State Historical Museum Оп.Б 72/3 (Image Y. Nakas, copyright T. Bur). | 178 |
| 5.14 | Sketch of Bosphoran terracotta figurine with articulated legs carrying an effigy. Moscow State Historical Museum Оп.Б 305/115 (Image Y. Nakas, copyright T. Bur). | 180 |

List of Figures

- 7.1 C2 CE marble statue of Glykon from Tomis. 221
Museum of National History and Archaeology,
Constanza, Romania 2003.