GREEK PAINTED POTTERY

R. M. COOK gives a systematic and up-to-date account of Greek painted pottery from the Protogeometric to the Hellenic period. It treats the material by periods and, within each period, by schools. The style is clear and uncluttered by professional or art-historical patter. 'This work is distinguished not only for its incorporation of the results of recent research but also for its emphasis, proportions and outlook.' The Connoisseur 63s

FROM MYCENAE TO HOMER

SUPPLEMENTUM EPIGRAPHICUM GRAECUM

S.E.G. is published regularly as a review of Greek Epigraphy. As far as possible, it gives references to work done during each year on or relating to Greek inscriptions, and reprints new or emended texts. This offers a service which, it is hoped, is of value not only to epigraphic specialists but also to classical scholars in general.

To assist him in making the Supplementum as complete as possible, the editor would be grateful if scholars who publish studies on Greek Epigraphy, or substantially using epigraphic material, would send him a notice (or if possible a reprint) of their work. Their co-operation in this way would be greatly appreciated.

CAMBRIDGE EPIGRAPHICAL COLLECTION

The attention of members is drawn to the collection of squeezes of Greek inscriptions in the Museum of Classical Archaeology at Cambridge.

This collection already contains about 2,000 squeezes. These are drawn mainly from Attica and Asia Minor; but additions are constantly being made from all parts of the Greek world.

Members of the Society who may wish to consult this collection are cordially invited to do so; and in special cases arrangements can be made for sending out a small number of squeezes on loan by post. The Museum authorities would also receive most gratefully any squeezes in private possession which their owners might wish to make available for general use.

The wealth of the past lies no deeper than the archaeologist's spade. A trial trench through an olive grove uncovers clay tablets with an inventory of King Nestor's worldly goods. Excavation for a modern sewer brings to light five masterpieces of ancient Greek sculpture. A great mound in Turkey yields the rich grave furnishings of a princely burial.

These are the spectacular discoveries of recent digging. No less significant are the lesser finds—the inscriptions, coins and household pottery—from which the excavator patiently pieces together the record of man's early life in all its admixture of travail and triumph.

ARCHAEOLOGY

is the only American quarterly concerned with the presentation of the latest excavation material to the interested layman. Lavishly illustrated articles, prepared by specialists in non-technical language, acquaint its readers with archaeological progress in all parts of the world.

arrange parties to Greece which allow for the best combination of economy, freedom and variety.

Our 1961 programme, which was fully subscribed shortly after publication, includes four parties to Athens, all offering travel, one way by air and one way by rail and sea, including an overnight stay in Venice. In Athens accommodation is in a good, centrally placed hotel on "bed and breakfast" lines, allowing for complete freedom both in movement and in choice of meals.

Professor J. J. Tierney, Head of the Department of Greek, University College, Dublin, acts as leader of all parties and conducts a series of lectures and visits. Our plans allow for optional excursions to Crete, Delphi, etc.

The charge which we make in 1961 for a 19 days holiday is 59 guineas and this includes all travel to and from Athens (one way air, one way rail and sea), overnight stay in Venice, all meals on ships and on aircraft, bed and breakfast in Athens and the leadership of Professor Tierney.

We suggest that you apply now for a copy of our 1961 programme which we shall be happy to send to you. This will give you a general impression of our holiday plans which include "Art and Architecture" parties to Athens, Rome, Florence, Naples, Venice, Prague, Barcelona, and Madrid; Language Study parties to Nice, Cannes, Vienna, Salzburg, Mayrhofen, Barcelona, Palma and Venice; Music Festival tours to Salzburg, Vienna, Verona, Passau, Aix-en-Provence, Munich and Lucerne and Painting Parties to Cadaques and Maderno.

In addition to sending you a copy of our 1961 programme for your general information we will be pleased to put your name on our "mailing list" so that a copy of our 1962 programme may be sent to you when this is ready in January. We expect our programme for next year to be more extensive and to include, also, parties to Leningrad and Moscow, etc.
