

NEWS AND NOTES

ACTIVITIES

EVERETT CATALDO, RICHARD JOHNSON, LYMAN KELLSTEDT, LESTER MILBRATH and ALBERT SOMIT, SUNY at Buffalo, have received a $30,000 research grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

HARRY ECKSTEIN, ANATOL RAPOPORT, BRUCE RUSSETT and WILLIAM RIKER delivered the Wrather lectures at the University of Texas during February, 1968.

ROBERT HOLT, University of Minnesota, has received a grant from the Agricultural Development Council which will be used to support one aspect of a research project designed by him and JOHN TURNER, also of the University of Minnesota.

HAROLD K. JACOBSON and ERIC STEIN, University of Michigan and University of Michigan Law School respectively, were awarded the University of Michigan Press Prize for 1967 for their book, Diplomats, Scientists and Politicians.

DAVID C. SCHWARTZ, University of Pennsylvania, chaired the Foreign Policy Research Institute Conferences on Revolution Studies, October 20-21, 1967 and February 9-10, 1968. Other participants included JAMES C. DAVIES, FRED FREY, IVO FEIRABEND, TED GURR, FELIKS GROSS, WILLIAM R. KINTER, ROBERT STRAUZHUPE and RAYMOND TANTER.

Political scientists elected as delegates to the Maryland Constitutional Convention were: FRANKLIN BURDETTE, University of Maryland; ROYCE HANSON, American University; HOWARD PENNIMAN, Georgetown University; and CLINTON I. WINSLOW, Goucher College. PENNIMAN was chairman of the Committee on Style, Drafting and Arrangements.

Political Scientists serving on the staff of the Maryland Constitutional Convention were: NEAL FOLSE, administrative assistant to Committee on Suffrage and Elections; ROBERT LOEVY, Goucher College, staff advisor to Committee on Legislative Branch; HUGH NICHOLS, staff advisor to Committee on Local Government; DAVID G. PHILLIPS, U.S. Office of Education, acting director of research and staff advisor to Committee on Style, Drafting and Arrangements; and RICHARD SMOLKA, American University, staff advisor to Committee on Suffrage and Elections.

A. M. ABBASS, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, is currently on leave and is visiting the Middle East.

ORVILLE ALEXANDER, Southern Illinois University at Carbonale, served as director of the 1967 Oxford summer seminar for the University of Oxford.

SAMUEL H. BARNES, University of Michigan, is spending the current academic year at the University of Rome as a Fulbright lecturer.

VICTOR BASIUK, Case Institute of Technology, spent the summer of 1967 in Washington as a consultant to the White House staff, advising on the formulation of marine programs and policies as an instrument of American foreign policy.

WENDELL BEDICHEK, Lamar State College of Technology, served as a consultant to the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations during the past summer.

DONALD G. BISHOP, Syracuse University, spent a year's leave of absence teaching at Tunghai University in Taiwan and lecturing at a number of universities in the Far East.

HILLMAN M. BISHOP, City College, CUNY, was on sabbatical leave during the 1967 fall term.

RUFUS P. BROWNING, Michigan State University, received an American Council of Learned Societies post-doctoral grant, supported by International Business Machines, for research on "Quality of collective decisions in political bargaining."

BEN G. BURNETT, Whittier College, is on sabbatical leave during the second semester, 1967-68.

SOON SUNG CHO, University of Nebraska, will do research in the Far East during the summer of 1968. He has a research grant from the Far Eastern and Russian Institute of the University of Washington.

SAMUEL I. CLARK, Western Michigan University, spent the 1967 summer in India.

IRVING O. DAWSON, Lamar State College of Technology, has been awarded a research grant by The Equal Employment Opportunities Commission.

RAYMOND H. DAWSON, University of North Carolina, received a Danforth Foundation national award for excellence in teaching.

JOHN M. DEGROVE, Florida Atlantic University, has been appointed by President Johnson to the National Commission on Urban Problems. The Commission will report to the President and Congress in 1968.

FRANCIS C. DELUCIA, part-time lecturer in Urban Affairs at American University, was recently appointed Chief of the newly established Small Communities Branch in the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development.

ALEX N. DRAGNICH, Vanderbilt University, presented the opening lecture in Newberry College's lecture series on the role of the U.S. in world affairs.

JEAN M. DRISCOLL, North Park College, is on sabbatical leave during 1967-68 and is working with the urban studies program at Northwestern University.

IVO D. DUCHACEK, City College, CUNY, was on leave fall term.

JOSEPH DUNNER has returned to Yeshiva University from the University of Cologne, Germany, where he was visiting professor during the summer of 1967. He also headed a research team in Israel during the summer.

SAMUEL J. ELDERSVELD, University of Michigan, has been appointed to the Special Commission on the Social Sciences, newly created by the National Science Foundation.

IVO K. and ROSALIND FEIERABEND, San Diego State College, have received a research grant from the National Science Foundation.

STANLEY FEINGOLD, City College, CUNY, is on leave during the current academic year and is doing research in Japan.

JAMES C. FINLAY, S. J., Fordham University, is on sabbatical leave during the current academic year. He is a postdoctoral research fellow at Yale University.

J. LEIPER FREEMAN, Vanderbilt University, conducted two seminars at the U.S. Department of Agriculture Training Center, Front Royal, Virginia, in October.

WILLIAM R. GABLE, Arizona State University, delivered a series of lectures at the National Chengchi University in Taiwan on the occasion of its 40th anniversary in May, 1967.

WILLIAM GOODMAN, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, is on leave during 1967-68.

CHARLES GOODSELL conducted research in Peru during the summer of 1967 under a grant from the SSRC.

MORTON GORDEN, University of Pennsylvania and staff member of the Foreign Policy Institute, is currently holding a series of faculty seminars in the development of theory with computer techniques.

WILLIAM B. GWYN, Tulane University, is in England during 1967-68 as head of Tulane-Newcomb Junior Year Abroad Program.

BERTIL HANSON, Oklahoma State University, returned to his post in the fall of 1967 after a year at Oslo University in Norway.

WILLIAM HARDENBERGH, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, was chief of party for a delegation for exploration of an academic association with the University of Bangalore, India, last summer.

SAMUEL HENDEL, City College, CUNY, has been elected chairman of the Academic Freedom Committee and a member of the board of directors of the American Civil Liberties Union.

C. LEONARD HOAG, Middlebury College, is on sabbatical leave during 1967-69. He will be conducting research and working as associate military historian in the Office of the Chief of Military History in Washington, D.C.

ALLAN W. HORTON has been appointed executive director of the American University Field Staff Inc. He will assume his duties on October 1, 1968.

GARY HOSKIN, SUNY at Buffalo, conducted research in Venezuela in October, 1967.

ROBERT J. HUCKSHORN, Florida Atlantic University, has been appointed to the Republican Coordinating Committee's Task Force on Federal State and Local Relations.

KAREL HULICKA, SUNY at Buffalo, conducted research in the U.S.S.R., Central Eastern Europe and the Balkans from July 1967 to January 1968.

JACK ISAKOFF, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, was chairman of the Illinois Commission on State Government (Executive Branch) which submitted its report in 1967.

ROBERT S. JORDAN has returned to George Washington University after a two years' leave of absence as Littauer visiting professor, head of the department and dean of the Faculty of Economic and Social Studies, Fourah Bay College, University of Sierra Leone.

CONRAD JOYNER, University of Arizona, received the E. Harris Harbison Prize of $3,000 for distinguished teaching from the Danforth Foundation. He was also elected to the Tucson City Council in November, 1967.

VIRGINIA KEMP, SUNY at Geneseo, will be on leave the spring semester, 1968-69, to complete a study of Post World War II Congressional Policy Toward China.

JOHN W. KINGDON, The University of Michigan, will be on leave during the calendar year 1969 in Washington, D.C. under a SSRC grant.

GEORGE KLEIN, Western Michigan University, spent the 1967 summer in Yugoslavia.

STANLEY KOCHANEK, Pennsylvania State University, is in India during the 1967-68 academic year.

LIONEL H. LAING, University of Michigan, gave a seminar in March, 1967, at the University of Victoria, British Columbia.

MANFRED LANDECKER has returned to Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, after spending a year at the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Auswärtige Politik in Bonn, Germany.

EARL LATHAM, Amherst College, is the recipient of the first literary prize to be awarded by the Harry S. Truman Institute. The $1,000 David Demarest Lloyd prize was awarded to Professor Latham for his book The Communist Controversy in Washington, From the New Deal to McCarthy.

ARPAD J. VON LAZAR, The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, has received a partial grant from the American Philosophical Society to complete research projects in Argentina and Chile.

DONALD B. LEIFFER, San Diego State College, has a leave of absence and is serving in Kuala Lumpur on a Ford Foundation project administered by the University of Pittsburgh.

WERNER LEVI, University of Hawaii, served as senior specialist at the East West Center during the spring and summer terms, 1967.

HERBERT MAZA, director of the Institute for American Universities, has been elected president of the Association of Overseas Educators.

JAMES L. MCCAMY, University of Wisconsin, served as a Knapp University Scholar with the University of Wisconsin Center System during the 1967 fall term.

DONALD J. MCWHERTER, SUNY at Brockport, has returned to full-time teaching after two years as assistant to the associate dean.

EDWARD W. MILL, Occidental College, spent parts of August and September, 1967, in Vietnam observing the national elections there.

RICHARD M. MILLS, Fordham University, spent the past summer in Russia on the Citizen Exchange Program.

JAMES W. MORLEY, Columbia University, is on leave for two years to serve in the American Embassy in Japan.

TERRY NARDIN, SUNY at Buffalo, presented a paper at the Fifth North American Peace Research Conference at Harvard University in November.

M. V. NAIDU, Brandon University has received an SSRC (Canada) grant.

JOSEPH L. NOGEE, University of Houston, attended a conference on Computers and International Relations at Oak Ridge, Tennessee from October 30 to November 10. The conference was sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the Atomic Energy Commission.

JOHN K. C. OH, Marquette University, spent the summer of 1967 in Japan and Korea on research grants from the University and the Relm Foundation.

THOMAS J. O'LEARY, Williams College, is on leave during the 1967-68 academic year and is serving as visiting professor in the Institute of Administration at the University of Chile.

A. F. K. ORGANSKI, University of Michigan, attended the I.P.S.A. meeting in Brussels and participated in a panel.

NORMAN D. PALMER, University of Pennsylvania, served as chairman of the National Screening Committee to recommend Fulbright awards under the auspices of the Institute of International Education.

RICHARD L. PARK, University of Michigan, is on the civilian faculty of the National War College during 1968-69.

HOWARD PENNIMAN, Georgetown University, served as a consultant to the presidential observers on the 1967 Vietnam elections.

ROBERT L. PFALTZGRAFF, JR., University of Pennsylvania, participated in the conference on Computers and International Relations at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, October 30-November 1967.

LARRY L. PIPPIN, Elbert Covell College, spent the 1967 summer doing research in Guatemala under a grant from the University of the Pacific.

RONALD PLATT, Lamar State College of Technology, has been elected chairman of the Texas Liberal Democrats.

JOHN DUNCAN POWELL, Center for International Affairs, Harvard University, has been appointed director of research of the Center for Rural Development, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

QUESTIN L. QUADE, Marquette University, attended the seventh conference on Christian approaches to defense and disarmament at Friedewald Castle, Bonn, Germany, in September.

MICHAEL D. REAGAN, University of California, Riverside, has been awarded a SSRC fellowship and will be on leave during 1967-68.

CHARLES M. REHMUS, University of Michigan, presented a paper at the First World Congress of the International Industrial Relations Association in Geneva in September, 1967.

PETER P. REMEC has returned to Fordham University from a sabbatical year on the Fulbright exchange program at the University of Rajasthan, Jaipur, India.

JAMES M. RHODES, Marquette University, returned to teaching in February, 1967 after research leave in Germany.

MARIAN RIDEWAY, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, is conducting research while on sabbatical leave.

BENJAMIN RIVLIN, Brooklyn College, CUNY, has been appointed a member of the Research Liaison Committee of the African Studies Association; he has also been appointed to the Board of Trustees of the Institute for Mediterranean Affairs.

JAMES ROACH, University of Texas, has been elected vice-chairman of the Board of Foreign Scholarships and appointed to a three-year term on the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO.

J. WILLIAM ROBINSON, Whittier College, is on sabbatical leave during the academic year 1967-68.

WILLIAM C. ROGERS, director of World Affairs Center, University of Minnesota, was elected to the following positions in the fall of 1967: secretary-treasurer, Society for Citizen Education in World Affairs; secretary, International Affairs Section of the Adult Education Association of the U.S.A.; chairman, World Affairs Section, National University Extension Association; and vice-president, International Education Association.

ALVIN Z. RUBINSTEIN, University of Pennsylvania, delivered a paper at the 31st American Assembly, Arden House, Columbia University in April 1967; also was awarded a grant-in-aid by the American Philosophical Society.

HAROLD SARE, Oklahoma State University, spent the 1967 fall term in India.

RICHARD S. SAUL, Boston University, will be on a teaching assignment at Boston University's Graduate Overseas Program at Brussels, Berlin and Heidelberg, January 1968-June 1969.

ROBERT A. SCALAPINO, University of California, Berkeley, has been appointed by the President to the U.S. Advisory Commission on International Educational and Cultural Affairs.

ROBERT A. SCHOENBERGER, University of Michigan, has received a Rackham Faculty research fellowship for spring and summer terms, 1968.

PAUL SEABURY, University of California, Berkeley, has been appointed by the President to the Board of Foreign Scholarships.

FREDERICK SHAW, Baruch School, City College, CUNY, has been commissioned by the National Municipal League to write a history of proportional representation in American cities.

JOSEF SILVERSTEIN, Rutgers-The State University, is a Fulbright lecturer at the University of Malaya, Kuala Lumpur, during the present academic year.

HERBERT A. SIMON, Carnegie-Mellon University, has been appointed to the President's Science Advisory Committee for a 4-year term.

J. DAVID SINGER, University of Michigan, is spending the 1967-68 year in Geneva at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and teaching at the Graduate Institute of International Studies.

ROBERT E. SOCAS, Fordham University, was a 1967 summer lecturer at the Pentagon.

CLARENCE N. STONE, Emory University, has returned from Washington, D.C., where he spent a year as an A.P.S.A. congressional fellow.

FRANK TACHAU, Rutgers-The State University, directed an NDEA Institute at the University during the 1967 summer.

NORMAN C. THOMAS, University of Michigan, is spending the current academic year in Washington as a guest scholar at the Center for Advanced Study of the Brookings Institution.

CARL R. VANN is on leave from Oakland University and is serving as Senior Research Scholar, Social Development Division, United Nations, 1967-68.

JACK E. VINCENT, Florida Atlantic University, has been awarded a research grant.

JOHN P. VLOYANTE, Colorado State University, is on leave of absence during 1967-68. His research in Europe was funded by a grant from the Graduate School of International Studies of the University of Denver.

ROBERT WARD, University of Michigan, will be at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Stanford, July 1968 to July 1969. He also has been appointed by the President for a six-year term to the National Council on the Humanities, which advises the National Endowment for the Humanities.

STEPHEN L. WASBY, Southern Illinois University, was appointed to the Illinois Obscenity Laws Study Commission.

EDWARD J. WILLIAMS, Marquette University, received a university research grant for work in Chile and Venezuela during the 1967 summer.

J. K. ZAWODNY, University of Pennsylvania had a 1967 summer grant from the American Council of Learned Societies and the SSRC. He will spend the spring term, 1968, at the Harvard Center for International Studies and has been invited to become a senior member associate of St. Antony's College, Oxford University in 1968-69.

STAFF CHANGES

NEW APPOINTMENTS

PHILLIP ABBOTT, instructor, Rutgers-The State University.

HAYWARD R. ALKER, JR., professor, M.I.T.; formerly of Yale University.

WILLIAM ANDERSON, instructor, Northern Illinois University.

JAMES H. ANDREWS, instructor, Ohio State University.

RONALD E. ANHORN, instructor, Carthage College.

STEPHEN ARIANAS, instructor, Rutgers-The State University.

MICHAEL BAER, assistant professor, University of Kentucky.

JOHN BAKER, assistant professor, Southern Illinois University.

JAMES BARROS, assistant professor, Barnard College, Columbia University.

JAMES D. BELL, JR., instructor, Vanderbilt University.

G. WILLIAM BENZ, assistant professor, Lake Forest College; formerly of Trinity College.

Spring 1968

MARSHALL BERMAN, assistant professor, City College, CUNY.

WILLIAM BIGLOW, instructor, University of North Carolina.

PETER GIDON BOCK, assistant professor, Brooklyn College, CUNY; formerly staff editor for Political Science, International Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences.

J. CUDD BROWN, professor, Pennsylvania State University; formerly of AID and Sonoma State College.

STEVEN R. BROWN, assistant professor, Kent State University.

DOYLE W. BUCKWALTER, assistant professor, Brigham Young University.

RONALD BRUNNER, assistant professor, University of Michigan.

JAMES D. L. BYRNES, assistant professor, Emory University.

ROBERT E. CALVERT, instructor, DePauw University; formerly of P.A.U.W.

ERIC H. CARLSON, instructor, University of Nebraska.

YONG-WHA CHAI, instructor, Tulane University.

HUNG-TI CHU, professor, Texas Technological College.

INIS CLAUDE, professor, University of Virginia (Center for Advanced Studies); formerly of University of Virginia.

JOSEPH I. COFFEY, professor, Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, University of Pittsburgh; formerly of the office of National Security Studies at Bendix Aerospace Systems Division.

HARRIS SAUL COHEN, lecturer, Brooklyn College, CUNY.

RICHARD DALE, assistant professor, Southern Illinois University.

HENRY DELFINER, assistant professor, University of Wisconsin, Kenosha.

WILLIAM M. DICKSON, associate professor, Western Washington State College; formerly of Commission of Economic Development of Alaska.

KATHRYN B. DOHERTY, lecturer, Rutgers-The State University.

LYLE S. DOWNING, assistant professor, Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge; formerly of Emory University.

W. RAYMOND DUNCAN, associate professor, SUNY at Brockport; formerly of Boston University.

STEPHEN L. ELKIN, assistant professor, University of Pennsylvania.

JOHN T. ELLIFF, assistant professor, Barnard College, Columbia University.

JOSEPH J. ELLIOTT, assistant professor, Texas A & I University; formerly of Northwestern State College of Louisiana.

DONALD E. EPSTEIN, assistant professor, University of Waterloo.

DAVID H. EVERSON, instructor, Southern Illinois University.

RICHARD M. FONTERA, associate professor, University of Wisconsin, Green Bay.

JOSEPH F. FREEMAN, III, instructor, Emory University.

WOLF D. FUHRIG, associate professor, MacMurray College; formerly of Michigan State University.

JOHN R. GARGAN, assistant professor, Kent State University.

WILLIAM H. GERLACH, assistant professor, Columbus College; formerly of Eastern Kentucky University.

ROBERT S. GETZ, associate professor, SUNY at Brockport; formerly of Kent State University.

JAMES GIFFORD, instructor, SUNY at Stony Brook.

PHILIP S. GILLETTE, instructor, Skidmore College.

ZVI GITELMAN, assistant professor, the University of Michigan.

ANDREW GLASSBERG, instructor, SUNY at Stony Brook.

M. LAL GOEL, instructor, Niagara University.

VERNON M. GOETCHEUS, assistant professor, Columbia University.

ROGER GOLDSTEIN, assistant professor, Southampton College, Long Island University.

LELAND M. GOODRICH, James T. Shotwell professor of international relations, Columbia University.

CHARLES T. GOODSELL, associate professor, Southern Illinois University.

JAMES L. GRANT, assistant professor, SUNY at Brockport; formerly of University of Chicago.

FOREST GRIEVES, assistant professor, Western Illinois University; formerly of University of Arizona.

RODGER S. GUNN, assistant professor, Eastern Kentucky University.

JANE GURGANUS, assistant professor, Eastern Kentucky University.

MAUNG MAUNG GYI, assistant professor, Bates College.

GERALD L. HALLWORTH, assistant professor, Illinois State University.

JANE HAMMOND, instructor, Western Illinois University; formerly of Indiana University.

ROBERT W. HANSEN, assistant professor, University of Waterloo.

WILLIAM HARADER, instructor, Northern Illinois University.

JOHN HARBESON, assistant professor, University of Wisconsin, Racine.

LEROY F. HARLOW, associate professor, Brigham Young University.

FREDERICK H. HARRIS, JR., associate professor, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; formerly of Georgia State College.

GLENN B. HAVEL, instructor, Lamar State College of Technology.

CLAUDE E. HAWLEY, professor, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, City University of New York.

LOUIS D. HAYES, assistant professor, University of Montana; formerly of the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

JAMES F. HERNDON, associate professor, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; formerly of University of North Dakota.

ALAN HERSHFELD, assistant professor, University of Kentucky.

KENNETH HOFFMAN, associate professor, Morehead State University; formerly of Adrian College.

C. RICHARD HOFSTETTER, assistant professor, Ohio State University.

DONALD R. HOLT, instructor, Western Michigan University.

JACK W. HOPKINS, assistant professor, Emory University; formerly of Georgia State College.

LARRY G. HUFFORD, instructor, Texas A & I University.

WILLIAM H. HUNT, assistant professor, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; formerly of University of Kentucky.

MICHAEL HUR, assistant professor, Adams State College.

CHARLES E. JACOB, associate professor, Rutgers-The State University; formerly of Vassar College.

MERRILL A. JACOBS, instructor, Oklahoma State University.

DANIEL J. JURKOVIC, assistant professor, Carthage College.

JOEL JUTKOWITZ, assistant professor, San Diego State College.

FREDERICK W. KEITHLEY, instructor, Kent State University.

CATHERINE McARDLE KELLEHER, assistant professor and research associate, Barnard College, Columbia University.

HENRY KENNEDY, instructor, Oakland University.

J. GARY KEPL, instructor, Western Washington State College; formerly of University of California at Santa Barbara.

JOHN E. KERSELL, associate professor, University of Waterloo; formerly of McMaster University.

JAMES H. KLEIN, assistant professor, SUNY at Brockport; formerly of Princeton University.

H. R. KOLLAI, associate professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis.

IRMA LANG, assistant professor, University of Mississippi.

WILLIAM E. LEVANTROSSER, associate professor, Hofstra University; formerly of Henry Ford Community College.

HARLAN LEWIN, assistant professor, San Diego State College.

PAUL LEWIS, assistant professor, Tulane University; formerly of Louisiana State University.

CHARLES H. LONGLEY, assistant professor, Bucknell University.

THOMAS MACKIE, instructor, Allegheny College.

ALVIN MAGID, assistant professor, SUNY at Albany; formerly of University of Kentucky.

C. PETER MAGRATH, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and professor of political science, University of Nebraska, June, 1968; formerly of Brown University.

VINCENT L. MARANDO, assistant professor, University of Arizona; formerly of Michigan State University.

GERALD MARYANOV, associate professor, Northern Illinois University; formerly of University of Iowa.

ALPHEUS THOMAS MASON, Henry L. and Grace Doherty professor, University of Virginia; formerly of Princeton University.

MYRON MAST, assistant professor, Lamar State College of Technology.

HARRY G. MATTHEWS, associate professor, University of Chattanooga; formerly of Northern Arizona University.

DOROTHY E. MCBRIDE, interim assistant, Florida Atlantic University.

STEVEN MCCARL, assistant professor, University of Denver.

JOSEPH D. MCGOLDRICK, professor, Baruch School, City College, CUNY; formerly of Queens College.

DANIEL G. MCHARGUE, professor, Southern Illinois University; formerly of University of Michigan and Ford Foundation.

CARROLL MCKIBBON, assistant professor, University of Nebraska.

LELAN MCLEMORE, instructor, Lamar State College of Technology.

BARCLAY D. McMILLEN, instructor, Kent State University.

ROBERT J. MCSHEA, assistant professor, Boston University.

WILSON CAREY McWILLIAMS, assistant professor, Brooklyn College, CUNY; formerly of Oberlin College.

WALDO B. MEAD, assistant professor, Illinois State University.

THEODORE W. MECKSTROTH, instructor, Ohio State University.

BERNARD MENNIS, assistant professor, University of Pennsylvania.

LOUIS S. MEYER, associate professor, Edinboro State College; formerly of University of Wyoming.

N. DAVID MILDER, instructor, Ohio State University.

MICHAEL M. MILENKOVITCH, assistant professor, Lehman College, CUNY; formerly of Hunter College, CUNY.

ROY E. MILLER, instructor, Southern Illinois University.

RONALD C. MOE, assistant professor, San Diego State College.

DONALD R. MORRIS, instructor, Vanderbilt University.

WILLIAM H. MOSELEY, lecturer, Western Washington State College; formerly of Shoreline Community College.

WILLIAM D. MULLER, assistant professor, SUNY at Fredonia; formerly of Texas Technological College.

SANJEEVA NAYAK, assistant professor, Southampton College, Long Island University.

BETTY A. NESVOLD, assistant professor, San Diego State College.

MAURINE B. NEUBERGER, adjunct professor, Boston University.

PETER NIXDORFF, assistant professor, University of Kentucky.

JOHN C. H. OH, associate professor, Wisconsin State University, Whitewater; formerly of University of Wisconsin, Green Bay.

JOHN M. ORBELL, assistant professor, University of Oregon; formerly of Ohio State University.

MICHAEL ORMOND, assistant professor, California State College at Long Beach.

MARGARET OSLUND, professor, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, CUNY.

JAMES OZINGA, instructor, Oakland University.

JOANN P. PAINE, assistant professor, Southern Illinois University.

DAVID L. PALETZ, assistant professor, Duke University.

DAVID F. PAULSEN, associate professor, Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge; formerly of University of Arizona.

ROBERT S. PECKHAM, assistant professor, Alfred University; formerly of Maxwell School, Syracuse University.

JOHN A. PEELER, assistant professor, Bucknell University.

ELLIS PERLMANN, assistant professor, Flint College, University of Michigan.

JAMES PETRAS, assistant professor, Pennsylvania State University.

LARRY L. PIPPIN, associate professor, Elbert Covell College, University of the Pacific.

ROBERT PUTNAM, assistant professor, University of Michigan.

KAREN EIDE RAWLING, assistant professor, University of Waterloo.

CHARLES M. REDENIUS, instructor, Western Michigan University.

ALAN REED, assistant professor, University of Nebraska.

HERBERT REID, assistant professor, University of Kentucky.

EDWARD F. RENWICK, assistant professor, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge; formerly of University of Southwestern Louisiana.

HOWARD M. RIEGER, assistant professor, SUNY at Geneseo.

RANDALL B. RIPLEY, associate professor, Ohio State University.

RIORDAN ROETT, assistant professor, Vanderbilt University.

MARVIN L. ROGERS, lecturer, Rutgers-The State University.

PETER ROMAN, instructor, Northern Illinois University.

CHARLES S. ROOKS, assistant professor, Lake Forest College; formerly of Duke University.

STEPHEN L. ROZMAN, instructor, University of Nebraska.

THOMAS O. SCHLESINGER, assistant professor, SUNY at Fredonia.

GLENN R. SCHRAM, assistant professor, Marquette University.

BARRY M. SCHUTZ, assistant lecturer, University of Lancaster.

LOUIS M. SEAGULL, assistant professor, University of Pennsylvania.

ROBERT SEDDIG, assistant professor, Allegheny College.

RONALD C. SEMONE, associate director, Legal, Legislative and Civil Rights Training, General Management Training Center, U.S. Civil Service Commission.

AHMED SHEIKH, assistant professor, Pennsylvania State University.

W. PHILLIPS SHIVELY, assistant professor, University of Oregon.

SONDRA SILVERMAN, assistant professor, Brooklyn College, CUNY; formerly of Australia National University.

DALJIT SINGH, assistant professor, Adams State College.

GILES WAYLAND SMITH, assistant professor, Allegheny College.

JOE SPRINGER, instructor, Southampton College, Long Island University.

CHRISTIAN SOE, assistant professor, California State College, Long Beach.

FRANCIS STARNER, associate professor, University of North Carolina.

LELAND STAUBER, assistant professor, Southern Illinois University.

JAMES A. STEGENGA, associate professor, Purdue University; formerly of Ohio State University.

K. LARRY STORRS, instructor, Vassar College.

EDWARD S. T. SU, associate professor, Texas A & I University; formerly of Lake Superior State College.

JAMES SUNDBERG, assistant professor, Western Illinois University; formerly of University of California, Berkeley.

DONALD G. TACHERON, senior specialist and chief of government and general research division, Legislative Reference Service, Library of Congress; formerly Associate Director of American Political Science Association.

RAYMOND TANTER, associate professor, University of Michigan; formerly deputy director of Behavioral Sciences at the Pentagon.

RICHARD W. TAYLOR, professor, Kent State University.

WILLIAM TUOHY, assistant professor, University of California, Davis.

JACK VANDERSLIK, assistant professor, Southern Illinois University.

RICHARD VEATCH, assistant professor, University of Winnipeg.

JOEL G. VERNER, assistant professor, Illinois State University.

EUGENE V. WALTER, professor, Boston University.

GARY L. WAMSLEY, assistant professor, Vanderbilt University.

JOHN WATERBURY, assistant professor, University of Michigan.

CONRAD WEILER, instructor, Northern Illinois University.

MICHAEL A. WEINSTEIN, assistant professor, Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

MARILYN W. WHISLER, SUNY at Brockport; formerly of University of Wisconsin, Madison.

ALLEN WILCOX, instructor, University of Nevada.

HOWARD E. WOLPE, assistant professor, Western Michigan University.

SHERMAN WYMAN, assistant professor, University of Denver.

ALAN J. WYNER, instructor, Ohio State University.

DAVID W. ZIEGLER, instructor, Western Washington State College; formerly of Harvard University.

ISRAEL S. ZIONY, lecturer, Baruch School, City College, CUNY.

LAWRENCE ZIRING, associate professor, Western Michigan University.

VISITING AND TEMPORARY APPOINTMENTS

WILLIAM BOYER, Kansas State University; Fulbright professor, Andhra University, India.

WILLARD L. BEAULAC, retired Foreign Service career officer; diplomat-in-residence, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

PETER BECHTOLD, assistant professor, University of Oregon.

WALLACE H. BEST, professor, San Diego State College.

THOMAS H. BROSE, Simon Fraser University; lecturer, University of Liverpool.

ORLANDO M. CARVAHLO, Universidad Federal de Minas Gerais, Brazil; professor, Vanderbilt University.

GEORGE E. G. CATLIN, professor, Michigan State University.

SOON SUNG CHO, University of Nebraska; distinguished foreign lecturer, University of Oregon, winter and spring terms, 1968.

JAMESON W. DOIG, associate professor, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, CUNY.

ROBERT E. DOWSE, lecturer in Politics, University of Exeter; professor SUNY at Geneseo, 1968-69.

L. G. E. EDMONDSON, University of Waterloo; professor, Makerere University College, Uganda.

HENRY W. EHRMANN, Dartmouth College; professor, Free University of Berlin, spring and summer terms 1967.

HERBERT EMMERICH, professor, University of California, Berkeley, spring quarter 1968.

EERNEST J. GOODMAN, State University College, Oneonta, N.Y.; associate professor, Julius Maximilians University, Wuerzburg, Germany, winter term, 1968.

SEBASTIAN DE GRAZIA, professor, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, CUNY.

F. H. GUILD, professor and senior consultant for Public Affairs Research Bureau, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

THOMAS HARPER, instructor, Tulane University.

MARTIN O. HEISLER, University of Maryland; professor, University of Kentucky.

KAREL HULICKA, SUNY at Buffalo; professor, Institute D'Etudes Americains Paris, spring term, 1968.

HENRY S. KARIEL, University of Hawaii; professor, University of California, Santa Cruz, winter and spring terms, 1968.

GENERAL SAID UDDIN KHAN, former commander of U.N. forces in Indonesia; lecturer, Claremont Graduate School.

LEE KOPPELMAN, executive director of Nassau-Suffolk Regional Planning Board; lecturer, SUNY at Stony Brook.

DAVID LEVITAN, associate professor, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, CUNY.

LESTER B. MASON, Bloomfield College; professor, Illinois State University.

HERBERT MAZA, Institute for American Universities; dean, City College, CUNY, summer term, 1967.

R. JUDSON MITCHELL, University of Chattanooga; assistant professor, Emory University.

FRANCIS W. O'BRIEN, University of Lausanne; professor, Emory University.

WALTER J. OLESZEK, assistant professor, Colgate University.

STEFANO PASSIGLI, University of Padua, Italy; associate professor, University of Michigan.

PERTTI PESONEN, professor of political science and dean of faculty, University of Tampere, Finland.

MARY JEAN PEW, Immaculate Heart College, Los Angeles; associate professor, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa.

RICHARD J. RICHARDSON, Western Michigan University; University of Hawaii, 1967-68.

RIKI ROBBINS ROSENBERG, Harvard University; professor, National Taiwan University, 1967-68.

GIACOMO A. SANI, adjunct associate professor, Ohio State University, 1967-69.

ARCHIBALD W. SINGHAM, associate professor, University of Michigan.

RICHARD F. STAAR, Emory University; professor, National War College, 1967-68.

WILLIAM STESLICK, associate professor, Columbia University, 1967-69.

ALBERT L. STURM, Florida State University; professor, University of Nebraska, second semester, 1967-68.

DAE-SOOK SUH, University of Houston; associate professor, University of Texas, fall term, 1967.

E. H. VALSAN, assistant professor, American University in Cairo, 1967-June, 1969.

QUINCY WRIGHT, professor, University of Michigan, winter term, 1968.

ARNOLD S. ZANDER, lecturer, University of Wisconsin, Green Bay and Manitowoc.

ADMINISTRATIVE APPOINTMENTS

LYNN F. ANDERSON: acting director, Institute of Public Affairs, University of Texas.

WILLIAM G. ANDREWS: professor and chairman, SUNY at Brockport; formerly of Tufts University.

ALLEN B. BALLARD: assistant dean, College of Arts and Sciences, City College, CUNY.

ROBERT H. BIRKBY: associate dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Vanderbilt University.

C. PAUL BRADLEY: chairman, University of Michigan, Flint College.

PHILIP M. BURGESS: director, Behavioral Sciences Laboratory, the Ohio State University.

REV. FRANCIS CANAVAN, S.J.: acting chairman, Fordham University.

DONALD M. CASTLEBERRY, dean of Graduate Studies, San Francisco State College.

FRANK C. DARLING: professor and head, De Pauw University; formerly of the University of Colorado.

HERBERT A. DEANE: acting dean, Graduate Faculties, Columbia University.

GEORGE D. EASTMAN: professor and director, Institute of Government Research and Service, Kent State University.

SCOTT E. EDWARDS: acting chairman, California State College, Hayward.

JOHN W. ELLSWORTH: chairman, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville.

ROBERT S. FRIEDMAN: chairman, Pennsylvania State University; formerly of the University of Michigan.

WILLIAM R. GABLE: professor and director of the Institute of Public Administration, Arizona State University; formerly of the University of Michigan.

WILLIAM C. GIBBONS: chairman, Texas A & M; formerly Department of State.

HUBERT S. GIBBS: director, Overseas Program, Boston University.

DONALD R. HALL: research specialist, Institute of Government Research, University of Arizona.

CHARLES V. HAMILTON: professor and chairman, Roosevelt University; formerly of Lincoln University.

DOUGLAS I. HODGKIN: acting chairman, Bates College.

DAVID KENNEY: director of the Public Affairs Research Bureau, Southern Illinois University.

FRANK L. KLINGBERG, director of Graduate Studies in Government, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

JAMES R. KLONOSKI: head, University of Oregon.

SOL LEBOVITZ: chairman, Social Sciences, Bryant College.

H. R. MAHOOD: acting chairman, Memphis State University.

GERARD J. MANGONE: vice president for Academic Affairs and provost, Temple University; formerly of Maxwell School, Syracuse University.

ROBERT J. MCNEILL: professor and director, Graduate Administration Program, Capitol Campus, Pennsylvania State University; formerly of Wayne State University.

M. V. NAIDU: associate professor and chairman, Brandon University, Manitoba, Canada.

ALLAN D. NELSON: associate professor and chairman, University of Waterloo.

WILLIAM J. NEWMAN: acting dean, College of Liberal Arts, Boston University.

JAMES K. OLSEN: professor of political science and dean of College of Arts and Sciences, Illinois State University; formerly of Kent State University.

GEORGE PEEK: dean, College of Liberal Arts, Arizona State University.

RAYMOND J. PHILLIPS, JR.: head, Social Science Department, Agriculture and Technical College, Delphi, N.Y.

ROLLIN B. POSEY: dean, School of Public Administration, University of Wisconsin, Green Bay; formerly of New College, Sarasota, Florida.

FRANCIS M. RICH, JR.: associate professor and chairman, Appalachian State University; formerly of the University of Georgia.

CHARLES SHELDON, associate professor and chairman, Southampton College of Long Island University.

BALJIT SINGH: assistant dean of the College of Social Science, Michigan State University.

GLENN H. SNYDER: chairman of the Center for International Security and Conflict Studies, SUNY at Buffalo.

HIRAM S. STOUT: dean, School of Public and International Affairs, George Washington University.

DAVID B. TRUMAN: vice-president and provost, Columbia University.

DONALD S. VAUGHAN: professor and director, Bureau of Governmental Research, University of Mississippi.

MAMERTO VENTURA: chairman, University of the Philippines.

CLAUDE E. WELCH: dean of University College, SUNY at Buffalo.

PROMOTIONS (with new rank)

CHARLES F. ANDRAIN, San Diego State College: associate professor.

IVAN AVAKUMOVIC, University of British Columbia: professor.

DONALD G. BAKER, Southampton College, Long Island University: professor.

SAMUEL H. BARNES, University of Michigan: professor.

THOMAS J. BENNETT, Marquette University: associate professor.

ROBERT H. BIRKBY, Vanderbilt University: associate professor.

ARNOLD J. BORNFRRIEND, City College, CUNY: assistant professor.

RICHARD W. BOYD, Indiana University: assistant professor.

LOUIS F. BRAKEMAN, Denison University: professor.

AUDREY CHAPMAN, Barnard College, Columbia University: assistant professor.

JOHN P. CRECINE, University of Michigan: associate professor.

JAMES A. DATOR, Virginia Polytechnic Institute: associate professor.

JOHN T. DORSEY, Vanderbilt University: professor.

MORGAN D. DOWD, SUNY at Fredonia: associate professor.

ALEX T. EDELMAN, University of Nebraska: professor.

IVO K. FEIERABEND, San Diego State College: professor.

ALAN FIELLIN, City College, CUNY: associate professor.

JOSEPH R. FIZSMAN, University of Oregon: associate professor.

DOUGLAS S. GATLIN, Florida State University: associate professor.

ROBERT S. GETZ, Kent State University: associate professor.

DANIEL GOLDRICH, University of Oregon: professor.

RAYMOND HABIBY, Oklahoma State University: associate professor.

CHONG-DO HAH, Lawrence University: assistant professor.

ROBERT HAYES, California State College, Long Beach: associate professor.

JOE HUANG, Tougaloo College: associate professor.

TAE JIN KAHNG, San Diego State College: associate professor.

CATHERINE KELLEHER, Barnard College, Columbia University: assistant professor.

JAMES D. KITCHEN, San Diego State College: professor.

STANLEY KOCHANEK, Pennsylvania State University: associate professor.

WALTER S. G. KOHN, Illinois State University: professor.

ALLEN B. LEE, Washington and Lee: professor.

GREGORY D. LESSIG, Edinboro State College: assistant professor.

GEORGE N. MCKENNA, City College, CUNY: assistant professor.

GEORGE A. MISNER, III, Agricultural and Technical College, Delphi, N.Y.: assistant professor.

BEEMAN MUSTAFA, Kent State University: assistant professor.

HUSAIN MUSTAFA, Kent State University: associate professor.

RANDALL H. NELSON, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale: professor.

CHARLES R. NIXON, U.C.L.A.: professor.

JOHN K. C. OH, Marquette University: associate professor.

JAMES W. PERCEY, Bloomsberg State College: associate professor.

LAWRENCE PETTIT, Pennsylvania State University: associate professor.

RICHARD J. RICHARDSON, Western Michigan University: associate professor.

CAREY RICKABAUGH, Oklahoma State University: assistant professor.

ALBERT H. ROSE, S. M., University of Dayton: professor emeritus.

MARY HELEN SAWYER, Memphis State University: associate professor.

JOSEPH SILVERSTEIN, Rutgers-The State University: professor.

GEORGE O. TOTTEN, III, University of Southern California: professor.

WALTER W. TOXEY, Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge: associate professor.

CHARLES WESTON, Western Illinois University: assistant professor.

HERBERT R. WINTER, Rhode Island College: associate professor.

L. HARMON ZEIGLER, University of Oregon: professor.

RETIREMENTS AND RESIGNATIONS

DONALD BLAISDELL, City College, CUNY, retired in June, 1967.

LAWRENCE H. CHAMBERLAIN, Columbia University, retired in June, 1967.

GUY H. FOX has resigned from Michigan State University to accept a position as Public Administration Advisor in the Overseas Development Program of the Ford Foundation. His assignment is in Beirut, Lebanon.

RALPH M. GOLDMAN has resigned as associate dean of the faculty, San Francisco State College and has returned to full time teaching and research.

SOLLY A. HARTZO, Carthage College, retired in June, 1967.

LASHLEY G. HARVEY, Boston University, retired in July, 1967, after twenty-one years of service with the rank of professor emeritus. From 1949 until his retirement he occupied the Maxwell chair of government at the University. He headed the Bureau of Public Administration from 1948-1967.

STUART A. MACCORKLE, University of Texas, relinquished his duties as professor and director of the Institute of Public Affairs on August 31, 1967.

LAWRENCE K. PETTIT resigned from Pennsylvania State University January 1, 1968, to accept a position with the American Council on Education's Commission on Federal Relations in Washington, D.C.

CARL J. SCHNEIDER, University of Nebraska, has resigned as chairman and professor.

EDITH WINNINGHAM, University of North Carolina, has retired.

IN MEMORIAM

The death of Professor DANIEL M. BERMAN in New Delhi, India, on November 19, 1967, was in the most literal sense a tragedy, not only for his family, friends, and American University colleagues, but for the political science profession as a whole.

Born in Paterson, New Jersey, on June 15, 1928, Dan Berman was 39 years old when adrenalin failure terminated his already imposing record of versatile achievement. Aside from having written dozens of articles and several books, he had, among other things, devoted his efforts to numerous libertarian causes, served on many national and local organizations and committees, delivered talks and participated in panels on college campuses throughout the country, been a staff consultant to the United States Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, and often appeared on a Washington radio station's late-night discussion program.

But quantitative assessments alone can reveal neither the full extent of Dan Berman's contributions nor the enormity of his loss. For his was a creative, penetrating, truly critical mind—one which refused to accept the platitudes and pleantries that so frequently masquerade as "intellectual discourse." Regardless of the circumstances—whether in his academic role or not, whether with friend or stranger—he never hesitated to attack and demolish the rationalizations and hypocritical arguments that are too commonly employed to defend the status quo. The war in Vietnam was one of his primary targets in recent years. The political science discipline—indeed the country—can ill afford to lose such a man, particularly in this era of professional and official timidity and private conformity.

Dan Berman received his B.A. from Rutgers University in 1947 and his M.A. from the University of Wisconsin in 1948. After obtaining his Ph.D. from Rutgers in 1957, he taught at the State University of New York (Fredonia) during 1957-1958, and at Washington College (Maryland) during 1958-1961. Joining American University's School of Government and Public Administration as associate professor in 1961, he became full professor in 1964. He won high respect as a brilliant lecturer, and, as Academic Director in American University's Washington Semester Program, he became known for engaging in enlightening verbal skirmishes with the public and private officials who met with his students. Despite, or perhaps because of, such encounters, these speakers—"big names" and otherwise—continued to meet with his classes, no doubt enjoying and benefiting from the sessions as much as did the students.

On sabbatical leave during 1967-1968, Dan Berman, accompanied by his wife and daughter, spent the summer of 1967 in Dublin working on the manuscript of a forthcoming textbook in American Government. He and his family then departed for India, where he was to study the Indian judicial system, supported by a grant from the Indian Institute of the University of Pennsylvania. His previous awards included a Congressional Fellowship for 1959-1960 from the American Political Science Association, and a National Convention