

Language and Linguistics

Books and Journals from
Cambridge University Press

We are the world's leading publisher in language and linguistics, with a wide-ranging list of journals and books covering the scope of this discipline.

Our publishing encompasses theoretical, applied and sociolinguistics, and represents a breadth of subfields, including grammar and syntax, phonetics and phonology, semantics and pragmatics, historical linguistics, discourse and conversation analysis, psycholinguistics and neurolinguistics, and first and second language acquisition.

Our acclaimed book list includes state-of-the-art monographs as well as major reference works, guides to research methods, and textbooks at all levels.

UK COGNITIVE LINGUISTICS ASSOCIATION

The central objectives of the UK-CLA are to develop and promote the multi-disciplinary field of Cognitive Linguistics within the UK, as well as contribute to the research- and event-based synergy currently growing across Europe, and to foster initiatives and exchanges at the wider international level. To this end, the Association organises a biennial UK-based conference in Cognitive Linguistics (see <http://www.uk-cla.org.uk> for details).

A key aspect of the work undertaken by the Association is cooperation with other Cognitive Linguistics Associations, under the auspices of the International Cognitive Linguistics Association. To find out more about the Association and get involved in its activities, please subscribe to the UK-CLA mailing list at <http://www.uk-cla.org.uk>.

The UK-CLA is affiliated to the International Cognitive Linguistics Association and the Linguistics Association of Great Britain.

Membership of the UK-CLA is achieved by subscribing to Language and Cognition. Details on how to subscribe to the journal can be found at the journal website www.cambridge.org/lco. Subscription is available in the following options: online only, or online plus print. Individual subscription includes automatic electronic access to all back issues.

In addition, the Association strongly supports contacts and cooperation between its members, the development of research projects, curricula and international graduate and doctoral programmes in Cognitive Linguistics, as well as the organisation of conferences, workshops, and other relevant events.
