The Bedford Anthology of American Literature

Susan Belasco, University of Nebraska - Lincoln

Linck Johnson, Colgate University

Although far less hefty and expensive than other leading anthologies, The Bedford Anthology of American Literature has been widely acclaimed for its judicious and broadly representative selection of literature. At the same time, it does more than other anthologies to help students understand and appreciate the literature (through its innovative contextual features and unparalleled art program) and to help instructors design their courses (including a new literary reprint series for customizable packaging options and a unique DVD designed for classroom presentations).

OBSESSION

A History

Lennard J. Davis

“Meditating on the great paradox of obsession—it generates brilliance and causes dysfunction—Davis does more than provide a fascinating cultural history of an elemental human condition. He tells the story, moving and memorable, of one of the life’s most enduring curses and gifts.”—Eric G. Wilson, author of Against Happiness: In Praise of Melancholy
CLOTH $27.50

THE WRITER AS MIGRANT

Ha Jin

“In arguing for a literature that transcends language, Ha Jin challenges us to rethink the basics. How important are the words in which a work is written? What value ought we place on its translatability? Opinionated, provocative, and poignant, The Writer as Migrant is real grist for the mill.”—Gish Jen
CLOTH $14.00

THE NORMAN MACLEAN

READER

Edited by O. Alan Weltzien

“The Norman Maclean Reader fills out and makes more human the impressions of the restless, inquiring storyteller we saw in previously published works. In his writings, at their best, we too feel the thrusts and strains. He is a writer of great beauty, in his own terms.”—Daniel Swift, Financial Times
CLOTH $27.50

LYRIC POWERS

Robert von Hallberg

“Robert von Hallberg is a careful, deep, and often counterintuitive thinker about poetry in general and about particular strands of modern poetry: his originality makes him impossible to place (or write off) as a partisan of a given school, and his consistent attention to the words on the page means there’s scarcely a reading in Lyric Powers that doesn’t say something valuable.”—Stephen Burt, Harvard University
CLOTH $29.00

LOCAL TRANSCENDENCE

Essays on Postmodern

Historicism and the Database

Alan Liu

“Offering a rigorous yet humane critique of New Historicism and cultural criticism from the inside, Alan Liu interrogates the possibilities for historical grounding in the age of information in a witty prose style and a capacious field of reference.”—N. Katherine Hayles, author of My Mother Was a Computer
PAPER $25.00

THE TRIUMPH

OF PLEASURE

Louis XIV and the Politics of Spectacle

Georgia J. Cowart

“Georgia Cowart elucidates a fundamental shift from the emphasis on the bombastic, glory-obsessed celebrations of war and conquest for the Sun King to performances that stressed the virtues of peace, sensual pleasure, and more private lifestyles. Well-researched and elegantly written, The Triumph of Pleasure will be welcomed by readers interested in elite and courtly cultures.”—Orest Ranum, Johns Hopkins University
