REPORT OF THE COUNCIL,

DATED 1st MAY, 1839.

At the close of their year of office, the first Council of the Camden Society feel great satisfaction in directing the attention of the Members to the highly prosperous condition of its affairs.

During a period of little more than twelve months from its establishment, the Society has attained a number of Members altogether unexampled in the history of Associations instituted for purposes in any degree similar; and this result has been effected simply by the use of such means as the Members of the Council, individually, and as a body, have been able to exert for making the objects of the Society extensively known, aided, as they have been, by the energetic assistance of the Local Secretaries, and several other kind and influential friends, and by the favourable impression conceived of the Society from the notices of its published works, which have appeared in newspapers and other periodical publications.

Shortly after their appointment, the Council were fortunate enough to obtain the zealous co-operation of the Rev. Dr. Bliss, Registrar of the University of Oxford, and, at his suggestion, the number of the Members was limited by the Council to one thousand—a number which the most sanguine friends of the Society did not, at that time, consider to be at all likely to be obtained. So little, indeed, did the Council think that the proposed limit would be reached, that the first impression of the first and second books was restricted to 500 copies, instead of 1,000; the number which has since been adopted. The total number of Members is now nine hundred and eighty, the largest number which can at present be supplied with books; and there are many Candidates for admission upon vacancies.

For another suggestion, that of the appointment of Local Secretaries, the Council were indebted to W. B. D. D. Turnbull, Esq. of Edinburgh, Secretary to the Abbotsford Club. The importance of this suggestion was duly appreciated, and it was, therefore, at once adopted and acted upon by the Council. Dr. Bliss was kind enough to accept the office of Local Secretary for Oxford, Mr. Turnbull for Edinburgh, and the Council have since appointed the following gentlemen for the places undermentioned.

Cambidge. The Rev. John Lodge, M.A.	Newcastle. John Adamson, Esq. Sec. S.A. Newc.
Bedford. W. H. Smyth, Esq. Capt. R.N. &c. &c.	Northampton. George Baker, Esq.
Birmingham. The Rev. G. O. Fenwicke, F.S.A.	Norwich. Seth W. Stevenson, Esq. F.S.A.
Bristol. The Rev. J. R. Wreford, F.S.A.	Reading. John Richards, jun. Esq. F.S.A.
Doncaster. Henry Bower, Esq. F.S.A.	Ufford, Suffolk. D. E. Davy, Esq.
Durham. Robert Henry Allan, Esq. F.S.A.	Salisbury. Henry Hatcher, Esq.
Exeter. Pitman Jones, Esq.	Southwold. Jonathan Gooding, Esq.
Herefordshire, &amp;c. The Rev. T. T. Lewis, M.A.	Worcester. John Matthew Gutch, Esq.
Aymestry, near Leominster.	Yarmouth. C. J. Palmer, Esq. F.S.A.
Hull. Charles Frost, Esq. F.S.A.	Dublin. Sir William Betham, Ulster.
Ipswich. Wm. Stevenson Fitch, Esq.	Paris. M. Francisque Michel, For. Memb. S.A.
Leicester. Thomas Smith, Esq. F.S.A.	Hamburgh. Dr. J. M. Lappenberg.
Liverpool. F. H. Rankin, Esq. F.R.G.S.	Vienna. Herr Ferdinand Wolf, For. Memb. S.A.

The Society has incurred a very heavy debt of obligation to these gentlemen, not merely on account of their exertions to increase the number of Members, but also for the manner in which they have kept down the expenses consequent upon the management of affairs spread over so wide a surface, and in so many different directions. Modes of diminishing those expenses have been suggested from time to time; in some instances they have been borne by the Local Secretaries; in others the Country Members have been appealed to for the purpose of defraying some of the necessary payments amongst themselves, and such has been the success which has attended these endeavours, that the Local Secretaries for Bedford, Bristol, Cambridge, Doncaster, Exeter, Leicester, Norwich, Reading, Ufford, and Southwold, have transmitted the full amount of their subscriptions, without any deductions whatever. Even where the number of Subscribers is much larger than in the places just mentioned, the expenses have been kept down to a singularly small amount.

The Council are of opinion, that the number of Local Secretaries should be increased by the appointment of proper persons in all the Cities and considerable Towns of the Kingdom.

The acceptance of a composition, in lieu of annual payments, was another suggestion for which the Council were indebted to Dr. Bliss. The amount received in that manner, over and above the subscriptions of the compounding members for the current year, is £110, which the Council propose to invest in the Public Funds, and that all future compositions, and all pecuniary donations or bequests made to the Society in furtherance of its general objects, be added to such investment. The Council further propose, that the dividends of the investment be applied as part of the general income of the Society, and that the principal be applicable to such special purposes as the Council shall from time to time direct.

Experience of the working of the laws of the Society having convinced the Council that they are susceptible of considerable improvement, they have taken them into their consideration, and have directed certain amendments to be proposed to the General Meeting; the principal of which are a better definition of the objects of the Society; an increase in the number of the Council, from twelve to fifteen, of whom one-fifth shall be yearly ineligible for re-election; the appointment of a Director, who shall take the chair in the Council, in the absence of the President; and an alteration in the mode of voting at General Meetings.

The publications of the Society during the present year have been,

I. A contemporary Narrative of the Arrival of Edward IV. in England, A.D. 1471, and his final recovery of the Kingdom from Henry VI. from a transcript made by John Stowe, the Chronicler, now in the Brit. Mus. Edited by JOHN BRUCE, Esq. F.S.A. Treasurer of the Camden Society.

II. "Kyng Johan," an English Play, by John Bale, Bishop of Ossory, from the Author's own MS. in the possession of the Duke of Devonshire. Edited by JOHN PAYNE COLLIER, Esq. F.S.A.

III. A contemporary Alliterative Poem on the Deposition of King Richard II. from an unique MS. at Cambridge. With the Latin Poem on the same King by Richard de Maydestone, from a MS. at Oxford. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq. M.A., F.S.A.

IV. The Plumpton Correspondence, being a series of Letters, commencing in the reign of Edward IV., and continuing to that of Henry VIII., from a transcript made in 1612, now in the library of Peregrine Edward Towneley, Esq. Edited by THOMAS STAPLETON, Esq. F.S.A.

And there is now passing through the Press,

V. A Collection of Anecdotes and Traditions illustrative of Early English History and Literature, derived from MS. sources. Edited by WILLIAM J. THOMS, Esq. F.S.A. Secretary of the Camden Society.

The Council have directed the last-mentioned work to be included amongst the publications of the present year, and it will very shortly be ready for delivery. It will be seen by the Report of the Auditors, that after payment of the charges for printing and binding the works now published, and all other ascertained expenses of the present year, there remains a balance of £197. 5s. 4d. to be handed over to the next Council, which will be considerably more than sufficient to pay for the printing and binding of the last-mentioned work.

The Council have also ordered the following works to go to press, and progress has been made with the first and second of them.

VI. A Collection of Political Songs in Latin, Anglo-Norman, and English, written in England during the 13th and 14th centuries; from various MSS. at London, Cambridge, &c. To be edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq. M.A., F.S.A.

VII. An Account of the Origin of the Bishoprick of Somerset, and its History, continued to A.D. 1174; and a small Collection of Charters relating to Ecclesiastical Affairs, from a private Collection. To be edited by the Rev. JOSEPH HUNTER, F.S.A.

VIII. The Chronicle of Josceline de Brakelond, Monk of St. Edmundsbury, from A.D. 1157 to 1211. To be edited by JOHN GAGE ROKEWODE, Esq. F.R.S. Director S.A.

The Editors of the following works, which the Council have admitted into the list of Suggested Publications, are prepared to proceed with them whenever it shall be found convenient.

IX. The Miracle Play of the Conversion of Sir Jonathas the Jewe by the blessed Sacrament, acted at Croxton in the fifteenth century. From a MS. in the library of Trinity College, Dublin. To be edited by the Rev. JAMES HENTHORN TODD, B.D., M.R.I.A., Fellow of Trinity College, Dublin.

X. Annals of the First Four Years of the Reign of Queen Elizabeth, by Sir John Hayward, Knt. D.C.L. To be edited by JOHN BRUCE, Esq. F.S.A. Treasurer of the Camden Society.

XI. The Doctrines of the Lollards, stated and defended: a MS. attributed to Wickliffe, in the Library of Trinity College, Dublin. To be edited by the Rev. JAMES HENTHORN TODD, B.D., M.R.I.A. Fellow of Trin. Coll. Dublin.

XII. Warkworth's Chronicle; being a contemporary Narrative of Events from A. D. 1461 to A. D. 1474. Written by John Warkworth, Master of St. Peter's College, Cambridge. To be edited by JAMES ORCHARD HALLIWELL, Esq. F.R.S., F.S.A., F.R.A.S., M.R.S.L. of Jesus College, Cambridge.

XIII. A reprint of "Kemp's Nine Daies Wonder; performed in a Daunce from London to Norwich: containing the pleasure, paines, and kinde entertainment of William Kemp, betweene London and that Citty, in his late Morrice, wherein is somewhat set downe with note, to reprove the slaunders spread of him : many things merry, nothing hurtfull. Written by himsele to satisfie his friends." London, 4to. 1600. To be edited by the Rev. ALEXANDER DYCE, B.A. from a Copy in the Bodleian Library, supposed to be unique.

The Council feel that they should do great injustice if they did not point out to the Society the highly valuable accommodation and assistance which have been given to them by Messrs. Nichols and Son. Upon Messrs. Nichols's invitation, the Council have used their house as the office of the Camden Society, and as their place of meeting. Mr. J. G. Nichols has acted as the assistant of the Treasurer in the receipt of subscriptions; they have collected the subscriptions of the London Members at the same time that they have delivered the publications of the Society, and have taken much trouble in correspondence, in the receipt and despatch of letters, and in the performance of various other necessary labours, which, if it had not been for their assistance, could not have been accomplished by the Council, without employing a Clerk and a Collector. For the delivery and transmission of the books, Messrs. Nichols have made a small charge to the Society, but much has been done by them from no other feeling than a desire to promote the welfare of the Society, and advance the interests of that branch of Literature, for its connexion with which their house has long been so honourably distinguished.

The Society is also indebted to the Master and Fellows of Saint Peter's College, Cambridge, for the very kind and liberal manner in which they granted the request of the Council to be permitted to examine the Manuscript Volume in the Library of that College, which contains Warkworth's Chronicle. Upon the application of the Council, made through the Reverend John Lodge, the Local Secretary at Cambridge, the Volume was at once sent to London, and permission given to the Society to transcribe and publish any part of its contents.

The services of the Editors of the various publications are so obvious, that the Council feel it hardly necessary to allude to them; but they think it right to remind the Society, that they are indebted to His Grace the Duke of Devonshire for permission to print the MS. of 'King Johan;'

that Sir Frederick Madden most kindly and liberally furnished the transcript of the poem of Richard de Maydeston, included in the Society's third publication; and that the Plumpton Correspondence was placed at the disposal of the Society by Peregrine Edward Towneley, Esq.

The Council have also to acknowledge the kindness of Thomas Willement, Esq. F.S.A. in furnishing them with the design for the ornaments upon the backs of their publications.

The Council have to regret during the past year the loss of the following Members by death:—

The Hon. Sir James Allan Park, D.C.L. F.S.A. one of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas.

The Rev. Marmaduke Prickett, F.S.A.

William Lorance Rogers, Esq. F.S.A.

The Rev. Hugh James Rose, B.D. Principal of King's College, London; and Charles John Smith, Esq. F.S.A.

Signed by order of the Council,

THOMAS AMYOT, Chairman.

WILLIAM J. THOMS, Secretary.
