DISCUSSION ARTICLES

John Wilson & Barbara Cowell/Applying Philosophy

Anne Seller/Greenham: a concrete reality

The journal is published twice a year, in March and October. These two annual issues constitute one volume. An annual index and title page is bound in with the October issue. Volume 2—1985. ISSN 0264-3758.

Subscription rates (post free): one year (one volume) £34.00 (UK), US$82.00 (Rest of the World). Individuals receiving the journal at a private address may subscribe at a 50% discount—i.e. £17.00 (UK), US$ 41.00 (Rest of the World).

This journal provides a focus for philosophical research with a direct bearing on areas of practical concern which are capable of being illuminated by the critical analytical approach characteristic of philosophy, and by direct consideration of questions of value. These areas include law, politics, economics, science-policy, medicine and education, but are not confined to these. The journal, published under the auspices of the Society for Applied Philosophy, aims to foster and promote philosophical work which is intended to make a constructive contribution to problems in these areas and to the identification, justification and discussion of values capable of transcending narrow or local interests.

AUSTRALIAN JOURNAL OF

LAW AND SOCIETY

While Australia has long maintained a healthy and vigorous literature dealing with law and other branches of the social sciences, until the appearance of the Australian Journal of Law and Society, no Australian journal existed which sought to examine the workings of the law and the legal system in society. The Australian Journal of Law and Society seeks to provide a forum to reflect the growing awareness that law cannot be properly studied in isolation from society.

Contents of the first two issues include:

Soft Values, Policy Analysis and the Legal Process; Social Security Reviews and Appeals in Australia; The Historical Role of Law in the Regulation of Employment; Max Weber and the Historical School of Law; The Subjected Body; Family Policy in China; A Jurisprudence of Social Justice; Marxism and Pluralism.

The Journal also contains extensive reviews and comments sections.

Subscriptions:

* $12.00 for full-time students

* $20.00 for individuals

* $28.00 for institutions

(Per volume - 2 issues.

THE PHILOSOPHER'S INDEX

*An International Quarterly Index
To Philosophical Periodicals*

Expanded Coverage

The Philosopher's Index significantly expanded coverage in 1980. In the past, current issues of The Philosopher's Index indexed journal articles only. However, Volume XIV (1980) increased coverage to include original scholarly books in philosophy, plus bibliographies, translations, textbooks, dissertations, and anthologies. Contributions to anthologies are indexed as well as the work as a whole.

Special Editions

The Philosopher's Index: A Retrospective Index to U.S. Publications from 1940 and The Philosopher's Index: A Retrospective Index to non-U.S. English Language Publications from 1940 greatly enhance coverage of philosophy journals and books on a retrospective basis.

At the present time all contributions to Social Philosophy & Policy are solicited by the Social Philosophy and Policy Center. We regret that unsolicited manuscripts cannot be considered. If in the future our policy does change, we will inform our readers of this alteration. However, in the future, potential authors on announced topics might contact the Social Philosophy and Policy Center to express their interest in contributing to a particular issue.

The papers by Gauthier, Harsanyi, Copp, Usher, Mishan, and Gibbard were originally presented at the "Conference on Philosophy, Economics, and Justice" at the University of Waterloo, May 20–22, 1983. The editors wish to thank Jan Narveson, the director of that conference, for his cooperation. David Braybrooke's paper, also from this conference, was published in Vol. II, no. 1 of this journal.

Rosenberg, Coleman, and Sen presented earlier versions of their papers at a conference on "Morals and Markets" hosted by the Social Philosophy and Policy Center, September 21, 1984.
