CONTENTS

PART 1 (MAY 1957)

	PAGE
LABBAN, F. M. Hairiness in wool and a method for selection based on the nature of the fibres and the distribution of halo hairs of the lamb's tail. (With Plates 1-4 and Twelve Text-figures)	1
LABBAN, F. M. The effect of growth hormone on wool follicles. (With Plate 5 and One Text-figure)	19
LABBAN, F. M. The effects of L-thyroxine on sheep and wool production. (With Thirteen Text-figures)	26
WIENER, G. and PURSER, A. F. The influence of four levels of feeding on the position and eruption of incisor teeth in sheep	51
LOW, A. J. and PIPER, F. J. Nitrogen, sulphur and carbon uptake from some nitrogenous fertilizers using ¹⁵ N, ³⁵ S and ¹³ C as tracers	56
BATEMAN, NIGEL. Some physiological aspects of lactation in mice. (With Nine Text-figures)	60
GLOVER, J. and FRENCH, M. H. The apparent digestibility of crude protein by the ruminant. IV. The effect of crude fibre. (With Two Text-figures)	78
COOKE, G. W., WIDDOWSON, F. V. and WILCOX, J. C. The value of mid-season top-dressings of nitrogen fertilizer for main-crop potatoes	81
BROWN, W. O. The transfer of maternal dietary riboflavin to the embryo during development in the common fowl	88
COLES, R. Further studies on fishmeal and the hatching rates of hen's eggs. (With One Text-figure)	95
ROBINSON, J. B. D. The critical relationship between soil moisture content in the region of wilting point and the mineralization of natural soil nitrogen. (With Four Text-figures)	100
CASTLE, ELIZABETH J. and CASTLE, M. E. Further studies of the rate of passage of food through the alimentary tract of pigs. (With Four Text-figures)	106
ASCARELLI, I. and BONDI, A. The effect of different plant sources on the utilization of carotene by chickens	113
LAKE, P. E. Fowl semen as collected by the massage method. (With Plate 6)	120
LODGE, G. A. Milking sows by machine. (With Plates 7 and 8)	127

PART 2 (AUGUST 1957]

NICHOLSON, I. A. The effect of stage of maturity on the yield and chemical composition of oats for haymaking. (With Three Text-figures)	129
NYE, P. H. and BERTHEUX, M. H. The distribution of phosphorus in forest and savannah soils of the Gold Coast and its agricultural significance	141
MATTINGLY, G. E. G. Effects of radioactive phosphate fertilizers on yield and phosphorus uptake by ryegrass in pot experiments on calcareous soils from Rothamsted. (With One Text-figure)	160

MUNRO, JOAN and INKSON, R. H. E. The effects of different suckling frequencies on the quantity of milk consumed by young lambs	169
BARNETT, A. JOHN G. and REID, R. L. Studies on the production of volatile fatty acids from grass by rumen liquor in an artificial rumen. II. The volatile fatty acid production from dried grass. (With Four Text-figures)	171
BARNETT, A. JOHN G. and REID, R. L. Studies on the production of volatile fatty acids from grass by rumen liquor in an artificial rumen. III. A note on the volatile fatty acid production from crude fibre and grass cellulose. (With One Text-figure)	180
LUCAS, I. A. M. and CALDER, A. F. C. Antibiotics and a high level of copper sulphate in rations for growing bacon pigs	184
LODGE, G. A. The utilization of dietary energy by lactating sows. (With Two Text-figures)	200
WALKER, CHARLES A. The skin thickness of cattle in Northern Rhodesia	211
STOWER, J. and BUD-HUSAIN, P. Conception rates with bull semen diluted in a glycerolized glycine-egg yolk-fructose buffer	220
SPEDDING, C. R. W. and BROWN, T. H. A study of subclinical worm infestation in sheep. II. The 'tolerance' level of infestation. (With Four Text-figures)	223
SPEDDING, C. R. W. and BROWN, T. H. A study of subclinical worm infestation in sheep. III. The effect on wool production. (With Plate 9)	229
ZALESKI, A. Lucerne investigations. III. Effect of heat treatment on germination and field establishment of lucerne seed. (With Plates 10 and 11 and Four Text-figures)	234
RILEY, RALPH and CHAPMAN, VICTOR. The comparison of wheat-rye and wheat- Aegilops amphidiploids. (With Plate 12)	246
HANLEY, F., RIDGMAN, W. J. and BARKER, M. G. The effect of leys on soil fertility. I. The effect of management of clover aftermath on the yield of the succeeding wheat crop	251

PART 3 (OCTOBER 1957)

THURSTON, JOAN M. Morphological and physiological variation in wild oats (Avena fatua L. and A. ludoviciana Dur.) and in hybrids between wild and cultivated oats. (With Four Text-figures)	259
RYDER, M. L. A survey of the follicle populations in a range of British breeds of sheep. (With Plates 13 and 14 and Two Text-figures)	275
PADFIELD, D. G. and BELL, R. M. Statistical analysis of an idealized geometrical representation of a system of follicle bundles	283
GLOVER, J. The relationship between total seasonal rainfall and yield of maize in the Kenya highlands. (With Six Text-figures)	285
BARTLETT, S., BROWN, B. B., FOOT, A. S., HEAD, M. J., LINE, C., ROOK, J. A. F., ROWLAND, S. J. and ZUNDEL, G. Field investigations into hypomagnesaemia in dairy cattle, with particular reference to changes in the concentration of blood constituents during the early grazing period. (With Two Text-figures)	291

	PAGE
MANN, T., SHORT, R. V., WALTON, A., ARCHER, R. K. and MILLER, W. C. The 'tail-end sample' of stallion semen. (With Plates 15 and 16 and Three Text-figures)	301
WIENER, G. The significance of grading-up in the Ayrshire cattle population of Great Britain	313
BULLEN, E. R. and LESSELLS, W. J. The effect of nitrogen on cereal yields	319
TIBBITS, JANET P. The development of calves reared on varying amounts of whole milk. (With Six Text-figures)	329
BRAUDE, R., CLARKE, P. M., MITCHELL, K. G., CRAY, A. S., FRANKE, A. and SEDGWICK, P. H. Unrestricted whey for fattening pigs	347
BRAUDE, R., MITCHELL, K. G. and HARRINGTON, G. Carcass length measurement in bacon pigs	357
COOPER, J. P. Developmental analysis of populations in the cereals and herbage grasses. II. Response to low-temperature vernalization. (With Five Text-figures)	361
BOLTON, W. The effect of the age of the hen on the porosity of the egg	384

PART 4 (NOVEMBER 1957)

SIMPSON, J. The incidence of swarming among colonies of honey-bees in England. (With One Text-figure)	387
WALKER, C. A. Studies of the cattle of Northern Rhodesia. I. The growth of steers under normal veld grazing, and supplemented with salt and protein. (With One Text-figure)	394
WALKER, C. A. Studies of the cattle of Northern Rhodesia. II. The apocrine gland population of the skin of Northern Rhodesian cattle and its connexion with the heat toleration coefficient. (With One Text-figure)	401
SMITH, H. and LUCAS, I. A. M. The early weaning of pigs. II. The performance up to 56 days of age of pigs weaned at 8, 14 and 20 lb. live weight. (With One Text-figure and One Appendix-figure)	405
SMITH, H. and LUCAS, I. A. M. The early weaning of pigs. III. The influence of protein supply during two stages of growth on the performance of pigs from 9 lb. to bacon weight. (With One Text-figure)	409
HUTCHINSON, J. C. D. and TAYLOR, W. W. Seasonal variation in the egg production of fowls: effect of temperature and change of day length. (With Nine Text-figures)	419
BAILEY, G. L. and BROSTER, W. H. Experiments on the nutrition of the dairy heifer. I. Protein requirements of yearling stock	435
ARMSTRONG, R. H., THOMAS, BRYNMOR and ARMSTRONG, D. G. The availability of calcium in three grasses	446
GLYNNE, MARY D. and SLOPE, D. B. The effect of seed rate and nitrogen on lodging and yield of spring barley (field experiments 1954 and 1955). (With Plate 17)	454
PEREIRA, H. C. Field measurements of water use for irrigation control in Kenya coffee. (With Plate 18 and Three Text-figures)	459
BARNETT, A. JOHN G. Studies on the digestibility of the cellulose fraction of grassland products. I. The relation between the digestibility of silage cellulose as determined in vitro and silage crude fibre digestibility determined by feeding trial. (With Three Text-figures)	467
