Conference

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN CONFERENCE OF HISTORIANS at the University of London's Institute of Historical Research
2-4 July 1997

Theme for 1997: Connections: European Peoples and Non-European Peoples from Alexander the Great to the End of History

The Anglo-American Conference is managed by the Institute of Historical Research in consultation with a committee of scholars from both sides of the Atlantic. Its tradition, however, has been multi-national ever since the informal meetings of historians in the University of London in 1921 which gave rise to the first Conference. Since then, the Conference has met almost annually except for a break during the Second World War. Both the subject matter and the personnel of the meetings draw on historical scholarship from all over the world and from many different fields and periods of history. If you wish to receive details about the 1997 Conference, write to the Academic Secretary, the Institute of Historical Research, University of London, Senate House, London WC1E 7HU, UK. Fax +44-171-436-2183, e-mail ihr@sas.ac.uk.

Book Notices

A major new history of Italy is being published by Laterza (Bari) under the editorship of Giovanni Sabbatucci and Vittorio Vidotto. The Storia d'Italia will appear in six volumes of which the first three – Le premesse dell'unità. Dalla fine del Settecento al 1861 (1994), Il nuovo Stato e la Società civile. 1861-1887 (1995) and Liberalismo e democrazia. 1887-1914 (1995) – have already been published. After the publication of the final three volumes – Guerra e fascismo. 1914-1943, La Repubblica. 1943-1963 and L'Italia contemporanea. Dal 1963 a oggi – a review essay dealing with the whole of the series will appear in Contemporary European History.
