Central European History

Published for the Central European History Society

Editor

Andrew I. Port, Wayne State University, USA

Associate Editor (Book Reviews)

Julia Torrie, St. Thomas University, Canada

Central European History offers articles, review essays, and book reviews that range widely through the history of Germany, Austria, and other German-speaking regions of Central Europe from the medieval era to the present. All topics and approaches to history are welcome, whether cultural, social, political, diplomatic, intellectual, economic, and military history, as well as historiography and methodology. Contributions that treat new fields, such as post-1945 and post-1989 history, maturing fields such as gender history, and less-represented fields such as medieval history and the history of the Habsburg lands are especially desired.

Membership

Becoming a member of the Central European History Society is easy! Membership comes with a subscription to the journal Central European History (CEH). Subscribe to the journal and join the group.

Africa Bibliography

Published on behalf of the International African Institute

Editor

Terry A. Barringer, University of Cambridge, UK

This large and authoritative guide to works in African studies has been published under the auspices of the International African Institute annually since 1984. From 2011 a fully searchable, consolidated bibliography will be available to subscribers online.

The Africa Bibliography includes a wide range of material and covers all regions of Africa, including North Africa. It lists works published in English as well as a number of other languages. The bibliography categorises by region, country and subject. It includes an author index and a detailed thematic index.

Itinerario

Published for the Leiden Institute for History

Editors

Alicia Schrikker, Leiden University, The Netherlands

Carolien Stolte, Leiden University, The Netherlands

Review Editor

Laura Cruz, Western Carolina University, USA

For over thirty three years Itinerario has provided a platform for scholars researching the history of European expansion in the context of colonialism between c. 1500 and 1950. Contributors are encouraged to take a global perspective and consider the international interaction of European countries from both a Western and non-Western viewpoint, analysing the impact of this interaction on World History in general. The journal also publishes a highly respected book review section, which covers around 100 monographs per volume.

Modern Intellectual History

Editors

Charles Capper, Boston University, USA

Duncan Kelly, University of Cambridge, UK

Samuel Moyn, Harvard University, USA

Sophia Rosenfeld, Yale University, USA

This important journal serves as a focal point and forum for scholarship on intellectual and cultural history from the mid-seventeenth century to the present, with primary attention to Europe and the Americas and to transnational developments that encompass the non-West. MIH enquires into this era's intellectual discourses and texts, their contextual origins and reception, and the recovery of their historical meanings. The journal encompasses various forms of intellectual and cultural history, including political thought and culture, philosophy, religion, literature and literary criticism, social sciences, natural sciences, visual arts and aesthetic theory, communications, law, economic thought, social and cultural theory, psychology, anthropology, music and the history of the book.

Instructions to Contributors

Editorial Policy

The Journal of Global History seeks scholarly articles that explore global change. Conscious of past historiographical inequities, the journal particularly welcomes contributions from Asia, Africa and Latin America. The editors appreciate submissions from both senior figures in the field and younger scholars wishing to situate detailed research in a wider context. The journal also publishes survey articles, think-pieces and selected book reviews. The editorial philosophy is to encourage disciplined diversity, disciplined through rigorous peer-review, and diverse in points of view. Every yearly volume of the journal consists of three parts.

Reviews of books: The journal only publishes reviews that centrally address problems of global history. Publishers are invited to send to the Reviews Editor announcements of forthcoming or recently published books that they think would be of interest to global historians. They are asked not to send books for review unless specifically required to do so. Unrequested books will not be returned. Requested books should be sent to the LSE address indicated below.

Reviews Editor

Dr Gagan Sood
Department of International History
London School of Economics and Political Science
Houghton Street
London WC2A 2AE, UK
E-mail: jgh.reviews@cambridge.org

1. Submission

If at all possible, articles submitted for consideration should be e-mailed, as Microsoft Word attachments (please do not use pdf files), to: jgh@cambridge.org

Length: Articles should be no longer than 12,500 words, including footnotes, unless authors obtain previous permission from the editors. The length of review articles and reviews will be set on a case by case basis by editors.

Language: All material should be written in English, and an English translation of all quotations in another language must be provided.

Conditions: Submission will be taken to imply that material is unpublished in an academic journal or book, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere, even in a language other than English. Exceptions may be made for articles published elsewhere in minority languages.

2. Manuscript preparation

Once an article has been accepted for publication in principle, authors should make any revisions requested by editors. The final version should be sent as an e-mail attachment in Microsoft Word, to the e-mail address given above. In cases of hard copy, two copies should be sent to the above address, double-spaced throughout, including notes.

An abstract: of 100-150 words should be provided.

Bibliography: Do not include a consolidated list of references at the end of the article.

Footnotes: should be numbered consecutively throughout and appear at the foot of the page, or at the end of the article.

Tables: should be placed at the end of the article, and clear instructions should be provided for the typesetter as to where each one should be inserted in the text. A descriptive heading and references to sources must accompany each table.

Illustrations: should if possible be digital, of high resolution (300 dpi), and transmitted electronically. In some cases, they may be sent on a computer disk (Macintosh or PC) to the above address. If photographs are sent by post, they should be black and white glossy prints. Maps sent by post must be submitted in camera-ready form. All illustrations should be clearly referenced in the text, and references to sources and descriptive headings must be attached.

A mailing address: should be supplied separately for the author(s).

3. Text conventions

Spelling: British with 'ize' preferred over 'ise'. Where foreign language words have achieved common currency, they should not be italicised and accents should be omitted – e.g. elite. Foreign words not assimilated into English (e.g. santri) should be italicised throughout, not just where they occur for the first time, and should have the necessary accents or diacritics. Capitals should be kept to a minimum, but should always be used where individual people or places are referred to specifically.

Numbers: up to 100 should normally be spelled in full. Days of the week and months of the year should appear in full, as should centuries, thus eighteenth century. In citations, the least number of figures should be used in connection with dates and pages - thus 241-5, except with the numbers 10-19 in each hundred, which should be cited as 112-13, not 112-3.

Abbreviations: should be followed by a full point; contractions should not. Full points should be omitted in initials which are read as words, as in USA, BBC, but retained for authors' initials, thus J. G. A. Pocock. Quotations: of more than 60 words should be separated out from the text and indented, without quotation marks. All citations in a language other than English should be translated into English, and should thus be kept short.

Footnotes: should be numbered in one sequence, identified by a superior number in the text, and appear at the foot of the page. They should not contain any substantive text, but should be used to indicate sources.

References should take the form of a full citation in the first instance, followed by short citations. Do not abbreviate journal titles. Ibid. should only be used to refer to the immediately preceding citation. Do not use op. cit. Please use the following conventions (note that these examples are in British English):

4. Copyright

The author(s) will be asked to assign copyright (on certain conditions) to Cambridge University Press.

Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do not hold copyright for world-wide publication in all forms and media, including electronic publication, and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in their text.

5. Proofs

Typographical or factual errors only may be changed at proof stage. The publisher reserves the right to charge authors for correction of non-typographical errors. All amendments need to be agreed by the journal editors. Any corrections that contradict JGH house style will not be transferred. Authors are not shown second page proofs which are checked by journal.

The editors reserve the right to make final editorial decisions.

6. Offprints

Authors will receive a link to the PDF of their article after publication. Offprints may be purchased at proof stage.
