Politics from Princeton

The Silent Sex

Gender, Deliberation, and Institutions
*Christopher F. Karpowitz
& Tali Mendelberg*

“The Silent Sex is a revolutionary book. Women must not only be equally represented in our society; they must be equally heard and responded to. Karpowitz and Mendelberg demonstrate that presence and voice are not the same thing, with critical consequences for our politics and society. Even more important, they show us what to do about it. This book will make a difference.”

—Anne-Marie Slaughter, President and CEO, New America Foundation, Bert G. Kerstetter '66 University Professor Emerita of Politics and International Affairs, Princeton University

Paradoxes of Liberal Democracy

Islam, Western Europe, and the Danish Cartoon Crisis

Paul M. Sniderman, Michael Bang Petersen, Rune Slothuus & Rune Stubager

“Paradoxes of Democracy is a rich and provocative study of the political dynamics that arise when cultures clash. This study of the tensions over the publication of political cartoons about Mohammed in the Danish newspaper Jyllands-Posten will enrich our understanding of the interaction of elite actions and public opinion when tolerance is tested.”

—Russell Dalton, University of California, Irvine

Knowing the Adversary

Leaders, Intelligence, and Assessment of Intentions in International Relations
Keren Yarhi-Milo

“Knowing the Adversary tackles a central question in international security and reaches nonobvious conclusions with wide implications. The quality of the empirical work is outstanding. I can think of few recent qualitative studies that are in its league.”

Governing America

The Revival of Political History
Julian E. Zelizer

“This exhilarating volume deserves a broad readership. . . . Zelizer’s work exemplifies and validates historians’ rediscovery of the importance of American politics, albeit more broadly defined than before, as well as vindicates political scientists’ recent and continued interest in American history.”

100 Years of Politics and Culture

Celebrating its 100th anniversary, The New Republic has charted—and shaped—American liberalism, publishing many of the 20th century's most important thinkers.

More than fifty essays, culled from the archives of The New Republic, are organized chronologically by decade—creating an intellectual biography of America's liberal tradition and an illuminating look at the pivotal issues of modern America:

The New Deal • America's role in war • the rise and fall of communism • religion • race civil rights • economy policy • terrorism • technology • the women's movement • gay rights

Introducing each article, editor Franklin Foer provides colorful biographical sketches and amusing anecdotes from the magazine's history. Bold and brilliant, Insurrections of the Mind is a celebration of a cultural, political, and intellectual institution that has stood the test of time.

NEW from KNOPF DOUBLEDAY

LOSING OUR WAY

An Intimate Portrait of a Troubled America

Bob Herbert

"In a series of haunting portraits, Losing Our Way is an unforgettable reminder of the struggles facing America's middle class today. Herbert has given us a sweeping picture of what has gone wrong in America—how we have underinvested in infrastructure, let corporate policies dominate the education debate, and fought needless wars that resulted in a tragic waste of life. A brilliant and devastating portrayal that explains how our priorities and policies have gone awry, Losing Our Way will make you angry and determined to put our country back on course."

—Joseph E. Stiglitz, winner of the 2001 Nobel Prize in Economics

DOUBLEDAY | CLOTH | 304 PAGES | $27.95

THIRTEEN DAYS IN SEPTEMBER

Carter, Begin, and Sadat at Camp David

Lawrence Wright

"Wright, Pulitzer Prize winner and staff writer for the New Yorker, offers a thorough study of the Camp David Accords of 1978 in this meticulously researched affair, which goes beyond the core events to address a multitude of historical factors. . . . Alternating between biographical studies of the people involved, sociopolitical histories of the countries and faiths represented, and an almost nail-bitingly tense unfolding of the conference itself, Wright delivers an authoritative, fascinating, and relatively unbiased exploration of a pivotal period and a complicated subject."

—Publishers Weekly

KNOPF | CLOTH | 368 PAGES | $27.95

SEVEN BAD IDEAS

How Mainstream Economists Have Damaged America and the World

Jeff Madrick

"In his incisive new book Jeff Madrick shows in rigorous and compelling detail how mainstream economic theory not only failed to anticipate the financial crisis of 2008 and the recession that followed, but actively contributed to the worst economic calamity since the Great Depression. If you suspect there is something radically wrong with mainstream economic theory, you must read Seven Bad Ideas."

—John Gray, emeritus professor, London School of Economics

KNOPF | CLOTH | 272 PAGES | $26.95

THE ROOSEVELTS

An Intimate History

Geoffrey C. Ward and Ken Burns

An extraordinarily vivid and personal portrait of America's greatest political family and its enormous impact on our nation—the tie-in volume to the Fall 2014 PBS documentary. This handsome, engaging, revelatory book is an intimate history of three extraordinary individuals from the same extraordinary family: Theodore, Eleanor, and Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Award-winning historian Geoffrey C. Ward, distilling more than thirty years of thinking and writing about the Roosevelts, and the acclaimed filmmaker Ken Burns help us understand for the first time that, despite the fierce partisanship of their eras and ours, the Roosevelts were far more united than divided.

THE GEORGETOWN SET

Friends and Rivals in Cold War Washington

Gregg Herken

In the years after World War II, Georgetown was home to an unlikely group of Cold Warriors: a coterie of affluent, well-educated, and well-connected civilians who helped steer American strategy from the Marshall Plan through McCarthyism, Vietnam, and the endgame of Watergate. This fascinating, behind-the-scenes history of postwar Washington is a rich and colorful portrait of the close-knit group of journalists, spies, and government officials who influenced foreign policy.

KNOPF | CLOTH | 512 PAGES | $30.00

ALL THE TRUTH IS OUT

The Week Politics Went Tabloid

Matt Bai

"With extraordinary care and rare insight, Matt Bai leads us from the unraveling of Gary Hart's presidential campaign in 1987 to the present day. It's a trail that leads directly to the triumph of tabloid journalism—exposing falsehoods rather than illuminating worldviews, finding character flaws and isolated transgressions rather than looking for experience and intelligence, playing 'gotcha' rather than examining a candidate's capacity to govern. As Bai notes, that trail has brought American politics to a deadening end."

—Robert B. Reich, author of Aftershock

KNOPF | CLOTH | 288 PAGES | $26.95

RED STATE

An Insider's Story of How the ★ GOP ★
Came To Dominate Texas
POLITICS

WAYNE THORBURN

"Red State is critical reading for anyone looking to understand Texas's dramatic political changes of the last fifty years." —KARL ROVE

Red State

An Insider's Story of How the GOP came to Dominate Texas Politics
BY WAYNE THORBURN

With a wealth of data on historical trends and tendencies in Texas elections and voting behavior, this book analyzes how a once solidly Democratic state has become a Republican stronghold without changing its essential ideological perspective or public policy orientation.

“Engaging, eye-opening.”

—STEVEN PINKER, Harvard University

Do we live in a world that is uniquely dangerous? Is it possible that the many threats and dangers promoted by policymakers and the media are exaggerated or overblown? In this timely edited volume, experts on international security assess—and put into context—the supposed dangers to American security. The authors examine the most frequently referenced threats, including wars between nations and civil wars, and discuss the impact of rising nations, nuclear proliferation, general unrest, terrorism, transnational crime, and state failures.
