BUT NOW FOR SOME GOOD NEWS

If you urgently need a new library management system, but don't have the budget to make the change this year, then perhaps we can help?

Heritage library management software is now available under a 'buy now pay later' arrangement. Two schemes are available, depending on the type of institution you are in, but there is no interest to pay on either scheme.

These schemes are not financed by an external credit agency – the sort that got our economy into trouble in the first place – but from our strong financial position. We are a prudent company, we don't pay out large dividends to external shareholders, we reinvest in the company to help the product stay relevant. We provide a high quality support service and we always retain a large reserve for a rainy day. This is why we have managed to stay at the forefront of library management software design for over twenty years, when so many other companies have come and gone. We are confident too that we will also be around for the next twenty years. So you can rest assured that a commitment to Heritage is a safe one.

Call us on (01865) 481000 and find out more about our 'buy now pay later' schemes.
