New Books from Harvard Divinity School Faculty

Aisha M. Beliso-De Jesús, Associate Professor of African American Religions

(Columbia University Press, 2015)

Electric Santería: Racial and Sexual Assemblages of Transnational Religion details the transnational experience of Santería, in which racialized and gendered spirits, deities, priests, and religious travelers remake local, national, and political boundaries and actively reconfigure notions of technology and transnationalism.

Giovanni Bazzana, Associate Professor of New Testament

(Peeters Publishers, 2015)

Kingdom of Bureaucracy: The Political Theology of Village Scribes in the Sayings Gospel Q deals with the administrative backdrop of the Sayings Gospel Q and with its implications for the ideological construction of the discourse around the basileia of God.

Janet Gyatso, Hershey Professor of Buddhist Studies

(Columbia University Press, 2015)

Being Human in a Buddhist World: An Intellectual History of Medicine in Early Modern Tibet focuses upon alternative early modernities and the conjunctions and disjunctures between religious and scientific epistemologies in Tibetan medicine in the sixteenth to eighteenth centuries.

Scottish Journal of Theology

Published on behalf of Scottish Journal of Theology Ltd

Editor

Ian McFarland, University of Cambridge, UK

Scottish Journal of Theology is an international journal of systematic, historical and biblical theology. Since its foundation in 1948, it has become established as one of the world's leading theological journals. As well as publishing original research articles, most issues contain an article-length review of a recent book, with a reply from the author. Scottish Journal of Theology provides an ecumenical forum for debate, and engages in extensive reviewing of theological and biblical literature.
