The Calusa and Their Legacy
South Florida People and Their Environments

Darcie A. MacMahon
and William H. Marquardt

"Finally, a well-researched and entertaining look at the grand procession of life that has been flourishing in South Florida's estuaries for thousands of years. This book masterfully describes the wondrous and little-known stories of its inhabitants—from plankton to mangroves to the ancient Calusa Indians to modern-day people."—Carol Newcomb-Jones, Florida Gulf Coast University
DECEMBER. Cloth $39.95

Indian and European Contact in Context
The Mid-Atlantic Region

Edited by Dennis B. Blanton and Julia A. King

"A strong and diverse volume which offers new perspectives on the early contact period (A.D. 1500-1750) in the Mid-Atlantic. . . . The strength of the essays—indeed, what links the volume together—is the commitment to integrating the archaeological data on an equal basis with the well-known ethnohistoric and historic sources of the region."—Jeffrey L. Hantman, University of Virginia
DECEMBER. Cloth $65.00

Heritage of Value, Archaeology of Renown
Reshaping Archaeological Assessment and Significance

Edited by Clay Mathers, Timothy Darvill, and Barbara J. Little

"A major contribution to archaeological literature . . . [and] a great contribution to heritage or cultural resource management."—Thomas J. Green, University of Arkansas
DECEMBER. Cloth $69.95

Coastal Collectors in the Holocene
The Chantuto People of Southwest Mexico

Barbara Voorhies

"Summarizes almost three decades of archaeological research into the lifeways of the Late Archaic Chantuto people of Chiapas. . . . It provides insights into a little-known coastal adaptation during the important period in Mesoamerican prehistory when agriculture and permanent villages were being developed to replace a longstanding lifeway based on nomadic hunting and wild plant food gathering."—Robert N. Zeitlin, Brandeis University
NOVEMBER. Cloth $69.95

The Jewish Community of Early Colonial Nevis
A Historical Archaeological Study

Michelle M. Terrell

"This is an outstanding and absorbing piece of work. Terrell re-creates both the world of the 17th-century Sephardi diaspora and the process of archaeological research with skill."—Adrian Praetzelis, Sonoma State University
DECEMBER. Cloth $59.95

Zooarchaeology and Conservation Biology

Edited by R. Lee Lyman and Kenneth P. Cannon

"This volume shows the relevance of an often-minimized set of archaeological data to enlightened knowledge and understanding of ecological processes."

—James Enloe, University of Iowa

Aggregate Analysis in Chipped Stone

Edited by Christopher T. Hall and Mary Lou Larson

Focusing on mass analysis of aggregates rather than individual flakes, contributors to this volume seek to identify the strengths and weaknesses in the more widespread and competing analytical forms, while arguing for the use of multiple lines of evidence.

Indigenous Ways to the Present

Native Whaling in the Western Arctic

Edited by Allen P. McCartney

The Anthropology of Pacific North America Series

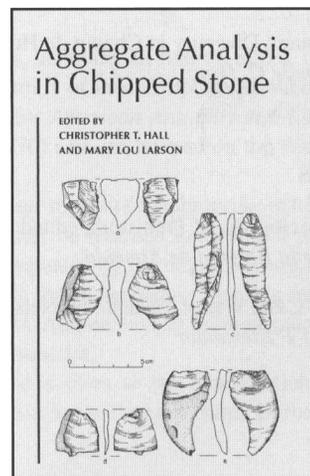

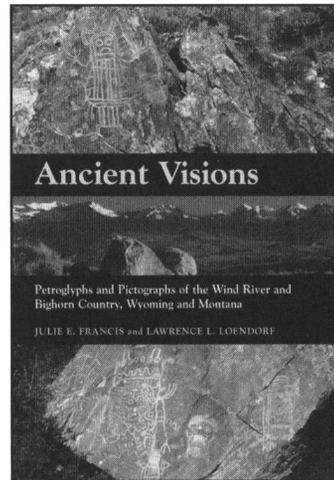

Traces regional Native whaling practices from approximately 2,000 years ago to the present.

"This is an important book and will have a long-term impact on the field. The papers by cultural anthropologists put whaling in the western arctic in a social context."

—Herbert D. G. Maschner, series co-editor, The Anthropology of Pacific North America

NOTICE TO AUTHORS

American Antiquity publishes original papers on the archaeology of the New World and on archaeological method, theory, and practice worldwide. Authors of papers on Latin American topics are encouraged to submit their work to Latin American Antiquity. Papers on Latin American archaeology addressing broad methodological, theoretical, or comparative issues may be accepted by either journal after consultation with the editors. Authors submit manuscripts to the editor for consideration as ARTICLES, REPORTS, COMMENTS, or FORUM essays. REVIEWS and BOOK NOTES are solicited by the respective associate editor. OBITUARIES should be submitted to the editor, The SAA Archaeological Record, for publication (see SAA Bulletin March/April 1996, p. 7, for further details).

Authors should submit an original and four copies of their manuscripts, including all figures, tables, references, and notes. Detailed information on policy, style, and technical matters of manuscript preparation is given in the "Editorial Policy, Information for Authors, and Style Guide for American Antiquity and Latin American Antiquity," which appeared in the October 1992 issue (57:749–770) and can be read on the World Wide Web at <http://www.saa.org/Publications/StyleGuide/styframe.html>.

The editor reserves the right to evaluate manuscripts (with or without peer review) for appropriate subject matter, quality, length, and compliance with the style guide. Manuscripts may be returned to authors if they fail to meet expectations or conform to these guidelines. Manuscripts are evaluated by the editor in consultation with peer referees, as appropriate. The editor has the final responsibility for all decisions regarding manuscripts. The review process generally takes a minimum of two to four months. Authors will be notified as soon as a decision is reached to accept (outright or with revisions) or reject a manuscript.

To ensure the prompt receipt and handling of manuscripts, please send them to the editor: Michael Jochim, 57 Mesa Rd., Department of Anthropology, University of California-Santa Barbara, Santa Barbara, CA 93106-7000.
