Canadian Section of the International Association for Philosophy of Law and Social Philosophy

The Editors greet with pleasure the formation of the Canadian Section of the International Association for Philosophy of Law and Social Philosophy. Membership in the Canadian Section is open to those with an interest in fundamental socio-legal and jurisprudential questions including philosophers, lawyers, political scientists, economists, historians, and so on. The Canadian Section will meet annually, usually during the Learned Societies Meetings at a time convenient to Law teachers and philosophers. All those who participate in the annual meetings are expected to circulate in advance either a principal paper or a commentary. The next meeting will be in Vancouver on May 31, 1983. The topic is constitutional rights. Principal papers have been promised by John Whyte (Law, Queen's), Rod Macdonald (Law, McGill), Nathan Brett (Philosophy, Dalhousie), and Michael McDonald (Philosophy, Waterloo). Likely commentators include Gene Dais (Law, Calgary), Brenda Baker (Philosophy, Calgary), Ann Bayefsky (Law, Ottawa), Marsha Hanen (Philosophy, Calgary), and David Copp (Simon Fraser). Further details on membership and the Vancouver meeting may be obtained from Michael Bayles, Westminster Institute, Westminster College, London, Ontario N6A 2M2.
