Contents

Se	ries Ed	litors' P	reface	j	page xiii
Ac	knowl	edgeme	nts		XV
1	Introduction				1
	1.1	On Pr	osperity		5
	1.2	On the Role of the EU		8
		1.2.1	Where	Are We Now?	10
	1.3	Conce	eptual Framework
	1.4	Struc	ture and	Choices	15
2	Ima	ginarie	es of Pro	sperity	20
	2.1	Introduction			20
	2.2	2.2 Social Imaginaries			22
		2.2.1	Definin	g Social Imaginaries	22
		2.2.2	How So	ocial 'Imaginaries' Change	25
		2.2.3	On the
			It Takes to Change a Social Imaginary
			2.2.3.1	The Trouble with Instituting Econor	ny 29
			2.2.3.2	On the Translation Role of
				Democratic Institutions	35
			2.2.3.3	Between Ideas and Interests	38
			2.2.3.4	On the Role of Law	40
	2.3 Prosperity				45
		2.3.1 On the Meaning of Prosperity (Today): M
			about I	Happiness than Consumerism	46
		2.3.2	Of Pros	perity and Democracy	51
		2.3.3	Of Pros	perity and Technocracy	53
		2.3.4	Of Pros	perity and Europe	55

		2.3.5	The Prosperity's Other: Looming Tribalism	59
			2.3.5.1 Dialectics of Prosperity: Between
			Privatised and Shared Prosperity	59
			2.3.5.2 The 'Other' Collective Imaginary:
			The Rise of Tribalism	62
	2.4	Susta	inable and Shared	65
		2.4.1 On the Constitutive Outsides: Renewing
			Imaginaries of Prosperity	66
		2.4.2	In the Search of Future: Credible Prosperity
			in the Twenty-First Century	68
		2.4.3	Can the EU Make a Difference?	69
3	Reiı	eimagining Consumption
	3.1	Intro	luction	72
	3.2	Consi	umption as a Matter of Contract Law
	3.3
		Prosp	erity (1975–1985+)	80
		3.3.1	1975: Consumer Protection as a
			Collective Project	81
		3.3.2	1981: First Cracks	84
	3.4	3.4 Towards the Imaginary of Privatised Prosperity
		(1985-1995)
		3.4.1	ı	86
		3.4.2	ĕ
			Consumer Rights and Policy Objectives	88
		3.4.3
			Services and Sustainability	91
	3.5 The Transient Hegemony of the Privatised Prosperity (1998–2012+)
				93
		3.5.1	1998: The Birth of Common Interest and the Death of Politics	93
		3.5.2	1	97
		3.5.3	2012: Out of the Crisis with
			Better Information	99
	3.6	Towards an Imaginary of Shared Prosperity after
		2018?		101
		3.6.1	2018: First Cracks: What Is the Deal in the
			'New Deal for Consumers'	101
		3.6.2	ĕ
			A Next Step?	104
	3.7	The C	Contours of the New Imaginary of Prosperity	107

		CONTENTS	X
4	Designing Technology
	4.1	0 0
	4.2	Embedding the Product	114
		4.2.1 Ecodesign Framework	114
		4.2.2 Embedding the Product in Time
		(Life-Cycle) and Society (Circular
		Economy)	117
	4.3	Steering Growth
	4.4	Beyond Win-Win
		4.4.1 Distributive Trade-Offs 1: Consumers	123
		4.4.2 Distributive Trade-Offs 2: Businesses	125
		4.4.3 Distributive Trade-Offs 3: Workers	127
	4.5	Shoring up Publicness	128
	4.6	Hardening Law	132
		4.6.1 Rise and Fall of Self-Regulation	132
		4.6.2 Toward a More Mandatory Law	134
	4.7
		of Prosperity	137
5	Reiı	Reinventing Industrial Policy
	5.1	Introduction	139
	5.2	Greening Growth	143
		5.2.1 EU Industrial Strategy	143
		5.2.2 Making Europe 'Competitive' via
		Green Growth	150
		Law as Burden
	5.4	Resourceful Government
	5.5	The Contours of the New Imaginary of Prosperity
		or Im Westen nichts Neues?	165
6	Transforming the Corporation
	6.1	Introduction	171
		6.1.1 'Corporate Governance File'	175
	6.2	New Problems, New Solutions	183
		6.2.1 Wait a Bit – What Problems?	187
		6.2.2 Wait a Bit – What Solutions?	190
		6.2.2.1 How Capable Are Directors?	190
		6.2.2.2 The Conflicting Imaginaries
		of Prosperity	191 193
	6.3	0 1
	64	The Contours of New Imaginary of Prosperity	105

xii CONTENTS

	6.5	Going Beyond: Pluralising Economy, Transforming Imaginaries
		6.5.1	Mainstreaming Non-extractive
			Organisations	200
		6.5.2	Transforming Imaginaries	202
7	Con	clusior	n: Towards a New Imaginary of Prosperity
	in t	he EU		204
	7.1	Chang	ging Background Assumptions	207
	7.2	The R	oad Ahead	211
Sel	Select Bibliography			215
no	lex			229