Research for a better life

Abbreviated Prescribing Information

Presentation: 'Cipramil' tablets, PL 0458/0058, each containing 20mg of citalopram as the hydrobromide. 28 (OP) 20mg tablets £21.28.

Indications: Treatment of depressive illness in the initial phase and as maintenance against relapse/recurrence. Dosage: Adults. 20mg a day. Depending upon individual patient response, this may be increased in 20mg increments to a maximum of 60mg. Tablets should not be chewed, and should be taken as a single oral daily dose, in the morning or evening without regard for food. Elderly. 20mg a day increasing to a maximum of 40mg dependent upon individual patient response. Children. Not recommended. Restrict dosage to lower end of range in hepatic impairment. Dosage adjustment not necessary in cases of mild/moderate renal impairment. No information available in severe renal impairment (creatinine clearance <20ml/min). Contra-indications: Combined use of 5-HT agonists. Hypersensitivity to citalopram. Pregnancy and Lactation: Safety during human pregnancy and lactation has not been established. Use only if potential benefit outweighs possible risk. Precautions: Driving and operating machinery. History of mania. Caution in patients at risk of cardiac arrhythmias. Do not use with or within 14 days of MAO inhibitors: leave a seven day gap before starting MAO inhibitor treatment. Drug Interactions: MAO inhibitors (see Precautions). Use lithium and tryptophan with caution. Routine monitoring of lithium levels need not be adjusted. Alcohol is not advised. Adverse Events: Most commonly nausea, sweating, tremor, somnolence and dry mouth. Overdosage: Symptoms have included somnolence, coma, sinus tachycardia, occasional nodal rhythm, episode of grand mal convulsion, nausea, vomiting, sweating and hyperventilation. No specific antidote. Treatment is symptomatic and supportive. Early gastric lavage suggested. Legal Category: POM 24.1.95. Further information available upon request. CONSULTANT PSYCHIATRISTS

Central England

£65,000 pa Negotiable + Benefits

Opening Britain's newest Psychiatric Hospital in 1996, benefiting from state of the art facilities, this £35 million turnover Trust, serving a population of 263,000, seeks to achieve self-sufficiency in the provision of a comprehensive Mental Health Service through the discerning appointment of two Consultants in Adult Psychiatry and one Consultant in the Psychiatry of Old Age.

With a proud record of innovation and achievement, that has included the opening of a new facility or commencement of a new service every ten weeks since its inception in 1993, this financially sound Trust benefits from excellent acute, community and day hospitals as a result of its £14 million capital investment programme, well-equipped locality-based mental health resource centres which are closely integrated with primary health services, and a strong complement of committed professionals.

Actively encouraging the pursuit of a personal special interest, the Trust is willing to negotiate generous sessional allocations for such special interests and is offering a remuneration and benefits package designed to attract the best. Applications are encouraged from both Doctors completing training and established Consultants.

These exceptionally well rewarded appointments afford an opportunity to work in brand new accommodation only ten miles away from Central England's major cultural and commercial centre with its complete spectrum of sporting, entertainment and educational facilities and its first-class communication links, and yet on the edge of unspoilt open countryside and within fifteen minute's drive of the region's most prestigious residential area.

Male or female candidates should submit, in confidence, a comprehensive CV quoting either reference number ZI/230 (Adult Psychiatry) or reference number ZI/234 (Old Age Psychiatry) by 18th March 1996 to:

CONSULTANT IN GENERAL ADULT MENTAL HEALTH

North West England

Aiming to be a provider of excellence in Britain's number one holiday destination, this progressive, highly competitive £51 million turnover Trust, employing 2,500 staff and serving a population of 328,000 is translating extra income into highly visible improvements in specialist healthcare and seeks to strengthen the clinical leadership of its community-orientated Adult Mental Health Service through the discerning appointment of two new Consultants in General Adult Mental Health, raising its total complement to eight.

Based in cosmopolitan Blackpool with access to the excellent integrated facilities of the purpose-built 128-bed Acute Mental Illness Unit on the major Blackpool Victoria Hospital site and utilising out-patient clinics in one of the three boroughs of Blackpool, Wyre and Fylde, responsibility will be to provide whole-time or maximum part-time clinical leadership of one of the four Adult Mental Health Teams.

Benefiting from a strong cadre of Consultants and enjoying funded purchaser support for its major clinical expansion programme in mental health, the Trust will encourage the pursuit of a personal special professional interest, including funding consideration for appropriate research, with Rehabilitation and Forensic Psychiatry, being of particular value.

Accredited contemporary Psychiatrists who are seeking a challenging clinical position should inspect these stimulating team-building roles closely. Applications are encouraged from both Doctors completing specialist training and established Consultants.

These well rewarded, specialist appointments afford an opportunity to live on the attractive, largely rural Fylde peninsula, with its picturesque villages and popular coastline served by first class schools and offering a good choice of elegant and affordable executive residences, a complete range of sporting and recreational activities including all types of water-sport and ready access to the beautiful National Parks of the Lake District and the Dales.

Male or female candidates should submit, in confidence, a comprehensive CV quoting the reference number ZI/236 by 25th March 1996 to: ZIEGLER INTERNATIONAL LIMITED, Consultants in Executive Search, The Jeffreys Building, Cowley Road, Cambridge CB4 4WS.
