The abstract of the above publication (Bunnell 2013) was originally published with a punctuation error. A semi-colon in line 21 should have been a comma. The corrected sentence is reproduced below:

In the second section of the paper, I consider three types of regional formations that have been identified in research on globalisation: the global triad regions, region states, and inter-Asia flows of capital, models and people which I examine do not map onto conventional cartographies of Southeast Asia.

The editors apologise for any misunderstanding this caused.
