THE HOLOCAUST:
IDEOLOGY,
BUREAUCRACY AND GENOCIDE.

The San Jose Papers

Edited by Henry Friedlander and Sybil Milton

Although the Holocaust has been the subject of scholarly concern and popular interest for almost forty years, it was not until the National Conference of Christians and Jews sponsored two symposia in 1977 and 1978 that its study was successfully integrated with an investigation into the whole Nazi phenomenon and the entire history of the Second World War. Kraus is pleased to announce the publication of The Holocaust: Ideology, Bureaucracy and Genocide, a one-volume work consisting of the twenty-five papers presented at the San Jose conferences.

Written by authorities in a wide variety of disciplines, the papers cover the history of antisemitism, the psychological and theological dimensions of the Jewish catastrophe, the methodology of teaching about the destruction of the Jews, and the roles of the educated elite and the professions in both Third Reich and Nazi occupied Europe. Both the scholar and the general reader alike will find the San Jose Papers a valuable aid to the study and understanding of this turning point in twentieth century history.
