

Stothard, Thomas, artist. Marina singing before Pericles. ca. 1825. Folger FPa73

The English artist Thomas Stothard painted Act V, Scene 1 of Pericles, Prince of Tyre in 1825. In this scene, the governor Lysimachus introduces Marina to Pericles, hoping her beautiful singing will elevate his mood. Pericles discovers that Marina is his long-lost daughter.

From an original in the Folger Shakespeare Library
Licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International License (CC BY-SA 4.0)