

Much Ado.

Shaw, Byam, artist. "Are you Good Men and True," Act III, Scene III. Much ado about nothing, a set of seven original drawings. ca. 1900. ART Box S534 no.26 part 4

In this illustration of Act 3, Scene 3 by Byam Shaw, we see Dogberry catechizing the Watch with the query "Are you good men and true?" Dogberry's comic malapropisms are ironic given his essential role in bringing the duplicity of Don John and his followers to light.

From an original in the Folger Shakespeare Library
Licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International License (CC BY-SA 4.0)